WILD GRASS FOUND IN 500 BALES SOLD TO CITY FOR HAY

Delegate Deffaa, With Two Neutral Investigators, Discovers Poor Grade of Feed Supplied to Municipal Stables by Contractors, Despite Contrary Report.

ONE LOT CHEAPER THAN CONTRACT PRICE

Experts Say Timothy Delivered at $14.50 Per Ton Could Have Been Bought in Open Market for $10 a Ton.

Edward H. Deffaa, member of the House of Delegates and of the Hay Committee of the Merchants' Exchange, scored another point Thursday afternoon in support of his contention that inferior hay has been sold to the city by dealers who contracted to deliver No. 1 timothy, the best grade in the market. He proved to the satisfaction of a disinterested committee of investigators that low-grade hay is now being served to horses at the city stables.

Deffaa, in face of adverse criticism by some Merchants' Exchange members who say he has been directly or indirectly influenced in city contracts, said he would further strengthen his position by showing that certain commission dealers have been in the habit of buying "funerals," the trade name for rejected and no-grade hay. He says he will show whether or not this sort of hay has found its way to the city stables.

Disappointed with what he called the "white-washing report" of an inspection made by his fellow members of the Hay Committee, Wednesday afternoon, after he had reported his findings, Deffaa Thursday organized another and unofficial inspection. Committee composed of feed dealers who are not in the commission business and are supposed to have no interest in city contracts.

He alleged that the day before his inspection was made by a committee, two of whose members have been selling hay to the firms which have the contracts with the city.

Talking with him John D. Mullally and Sol D. Quinlivan, feed dealers of long experience, Deffaa again went to the municipal stables and to several engine houses.

At the municipal stables, Forest Park boulevard and Vandeventer avenue, Mullally and Quinlivan sampled several bales of hay, and examined that which was in the mangers. This was hay which was delivered under the contract in effect for the three months preceding Sept. 1. It was hay which the Anchor Feed Co. had contracted to deliver at $15.00 a ton.

500 Bales of Wild Grass. Mullally and Quinlivan agreed that all of the hay in the mangers and most of that in nearly 500 bales which they sampled was nothing but wild grass, which according to tradition in the feed business is as nutritious as excelsior. It is said to be unfit for feeding purposes. Some of the bales were made up mainly of grasses and a variety of weed known as red top.

A few bales were found which, according to the investigators, might be graded as No. 3 timothy, a grade which, in Thursday's market, sold for $10 a ton. Mullally and Quinlivan found that a considerable portion of the store at the municipal stables was threshed hay. The seeds had been removed before it was baled, thus killing its value as feed.

One load of hay received after Deffaa commenced his investigation was found to be timothy and worth at least $1 a ton less than the contract price paid to the dealer.

Though the city contract called for No. 1 timothy, William G. Diekerling, superintendent of the stables, said he ordered the mixed hay because he thought it was better feed. Deffaa said Diekerling had no right to give such an order for the violation of the contract.

Deffaa, Mullally and Quinlivan then went to No. 28 engine house at Vandeventer avenue and Morgan street. The Rueschmann Hay and Grain Co. has a contract to furnish hay for the fire department at $21.45 a ton for No. 1 timothy.

STRAW HAT NO SUBJECT FOR DERISION, SAYS JUDGE

Court Lectures Man Who Found Out-of-Season Headgear a Cause for Jest.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Scoffing at the appearance of a straw hat as bad as smugling it in derisive objection at this time of year, in the opinion of the local police court, George Smith discovered this truth from Police Judge Mullowny.

Smith, seated at the headgear of a large man who wore No. 12 shoes, and who changed to be a policeman out duty and out of uniform. Smith was arrested.

When arraigned, Judge Mullowny lectured him severely and then let him off, but he issued a solemn warning to others that any criticism of the straw hat in future would be punished.

MRS. PANKHURST TO SAIL FOR AMERICA OCT. 11

Suffragettes' Chief Says She Has No Fear of Being Deported.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the British militant suffragettes, in a statement here yesterday declared she will sail for America Oct. 11. She added that she had booked passage.

"I do not believe the American immigration authorities will detain me, and certainly not for long," she continued. "I am not the least afraid of deportation and will not resort to any subterfuge to gain admission to the country."

"I will sail under my own name. I have much faith in the open-mindedness of the people of America. As soon as I finish my lectures in America I shall return to England."

PRESIDENT'S CHURCH SOLD TO NEGRO BAPTISTS

Central Presbyterian Congregation at Washington, Losing Members, Picks New Site.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—President Wilson is without a church, the Central Presbyterian edifice in which he has been accustomed to worship since he entered the White House having been sold to the Mount Carmel Baptist (negro) congregation. The Presbyterian congregation will build another structure in a more desirable neighborhood.

ARTIST SUES FOR $200 FOR PORTRAIT OF MRS. MATTHEWS

George C. Aid Asks Pay for Painting of the Former Jane Skinner.

PAINTED IN FUN, SHE SAYS

Lawyer Says Matthews' Sister Collaborated With Artist, Now in Italy.

George C. Aid, an artist said by his attorney to be in Italy, filed suit Thursday, for $200 against Claude L. Matthews of 4261 McPherson, for a painting of Mrs. Matthews. Mrs. Matthews was formerly Miss Jane N. Skinner.

Aid's petition, which was filed by the attorney, Lee M. Grace, charges that the picture was painted and delivered in March, 1908, and that Matthews agreed to pay for it, but has since refused to do so.

Grace told a reporter that Matthews' sister, Miss Lucy Matthews, had been a fellow student with Aid and that she collaborated with him on the portrait.

Result of "Ridiculous Matter." Mrs. Matthews, in a telephone interview, gave her version of the affair to a reporter. She laughed several times as she talked, saying it was the outcome of a ridiculous matter.

She had not been married long, she said, when she met Aid one evening at the Artists' Guild. A short time after they were introduced she said he asked permission to paint her picture.

"I laughed and told him we hadn't been married long," she said, "and that we didn't want to buy luxuries, but food. He replied that he hadn't had a chance to put brush to canvas since he had been back in the United States. He told me he would like to paint my picture just for fun."

"Even then I wouldn't consent, but he kept insisting. My husband's sister, Mrs. Claude Kennedy, and others, told me to go ahead and sit for him and I gave in."

"When he brought the picture to me he asked me if I wished him to sign it. When I wanted to know why he asked, he said something about expecting pay for it. I told him then I had never expected to pay for it."

Refused to Sign Portrait. "We sent the picture to him, but he refused to receive it. I didn't like the portrait, anyway."

Matthews declined to make any statement about the suit. He is in the electrical supply business at 372 Forest Park boulevard.

Aid was formerly well known among the artists of the city as an etcher. He has been abroad some time.

DAYTON STREET COURT SOON WILL BE REMOVED

Mayor Kiel Finds No Opposition to Plan to Move Tribunal to 43rd and Market.

The old Dayton Street Court at Jefferson avenue and Dayton street will soon be a memory. Mayor Kiel Thursday said that he had heard of no opposition to his plan to have it removed to the Municipal Courts Building at Thirteenth and Market streets.

Facilities for accommodating spectators and witnesses and handling prisoners are lacking at the old court, Mayor says, and in several ways it would be more convenient to have the two branches of the police tribunal closer together. Delays in changes of venue would be avoided and it would be possible for one of the two city attorneys assigned to the Municipal Police Court to assist City Attorney Sadler who now has to handle all the cases in the Dayton Street Court.

The Mayor said it would be more convenient for witnesses if the court were near the business center of the city so that they might more quickly return to their work or their business after testifying.

ACTOR IN 'THE VIRGINIAN' FATALLY SHOT ON STAGE

It Is Supposed Loaded Cartridge Became Mixed With Blank Ones in Iowa Theater.

DES MOINES, Io., Sept. 15.—In a presentation of "The Virginian" at the Cecil Theater, last night, Charles C. Harlan, Corporal of Company A, National Guard, a member of the cast, was shot in the head by Frank Barlow, also an actor in the production.

Harlan will die. He has a wife and three children. It is supposed that a loaded cartridge became mixed with blank ones in the production.

FATHER SCHMIDT AND PAL IN CRIME ALLIANCE ABROAD

Dentist Was in Germany When Priest Was and Is Fugitive From England.

SCHMIDT ROBBED LETTERS

Secret Service Chief Says He Never Discovered an Insane Counterfeiter.

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The engraver who sold Father Hans Schmidt copper plates used in his counterfeiting work told the police today that "Dr. Ernest Muret frequently had accompanied Schmidt to his shop." Muret, the dentist, has contended that he knew nothing of the priest's counterfeiting plans. The discovery of this engraver, A. G. Hauser, and the evidence he gave, was an important accomplishment in laying bare the records of Schmidt and the dentist. But Inspector Faurot of the Detective Bureau intimated this afternoon that something bigger was in prospect.

Hauser, the engraver, said a man he recognized from photographs as Schmidt called at his shop some time ago with a strip of copper 38 inches long and 12 inches wide. Schmidt, he said, instructed him to cut plates eight by four inches, explaining that he wanted a half-inch margin on them.

Priest Evaded Questions. Hauser said he was aware that the plates, by Schmidt's instructions, would permit the photographic engraving of currency. He became skeptical and inquired as to what use the plates were to be put. The priest, he said, evaded the question.

Muret pleaded guilty today to the charge of having in his possession a dangerous weapon. His case was put over until Oct. 2.

Schmidt became suddenly taciturn today. Hitherto, he seemed glad to answer notes sent to his cell, although his answers cast no light upon his record.

Two score detectives of the United States secret service and the New York Police Department have made reports which lead officials directing the work to following conclusions:

That Father Schmidt and Muret, long before they left Europe, had formed a criminal partnership, and that not only since coming to the United States, but also long before, they had knowledge of the criminal operations of the other, and that Father Schmidt, far from being a lunatic, was one of the most deliberately cunning and heartless crooks in criminal history.

Muret Fugitive From Justice. This conclusion was based on the following facts:

Among the possessions of Muret in his flat at 301 St. Nicholas avenue was found a photograph of himself taken in Mainz, Germany, when Schmidt lived there.

Letters found in the St. Nicholas avenue flat revealed that he is a fugitive from English justice, and that Scotch Yard detectives were trying two years ago to find him, and presumably still would like to know his whereabouts. These letters were of a most affectionate nature and were from Muret's wife—he has been in this country as an unmarried man. From the tenor of these letters, it is believed that the charge against him was in connection with illegal practice of medicine.

Other documents found in the Muret flat indicate that he had traveled under several different names in many cities on two continents and that in Chicago he was known as Dr. Arthur Held.

Father Schmidt was shown to have been not only a murderer, but also in his priestly guise, a counterfeiter, and a sneak thief, who stole hundreds of dollars from letters sent by parishioners to his pastor and from the Easter collection at St. Francis's, the church he was supposed to serve.

William J. Flynn, chief of the United States Secret Service in New York, who has had long experience with counterfeiters, declared that in all his experience he never had found a man who pursued counterfeiting to be insane. More than this, he never had heard of an insane counterfeiter.

In the safe in the office of "Dr. Muret," forced open by the police, were found papers indicating that Muret had been involved in a questionable land deal, and several appointing cups, receptacles used by priests to hold blessed oil in the administering of extreme unction. These are believed to have been placed in the safe by Schmidt.

The more detectives worked to run down the clues to the mysterious activities of Father Schmidt, the more they became convinced that only a minor part of these activities had been uncovered so far.

Priest Had Another Flat. Inspector Faurot's men found that a man using the name of Van Dyke had been receiving mail at an apartment at 124 West Eighty-fourth street.

Van Dyke, according to Father Schmidt's confession, was a name he frequently had used in his devious operations and was the name on the coat found in the Broadhurst avenue flat where Anna Ammuller was killed, and on the trousers and vest of the same suit found in the apartment rented by her Sept. 1, at 208 Eighth avenue.

It is believed, through letters found, that the "Van Dyke" who had been replacing mail at the Eighty-fourth street place and Schmidt was the same person. Among Father Schmidt's letters also

TWO WOMEN DEAD, A MAN ILL; AGREED TO END THEIR LIVES

All Are Found Dressed for Burial, Lying Under Sheet, in Arkansas Home.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. GLENWOOD, Ark., Sept. 15.—Mrs. O. Turner and a Miss Carter are dead, and Mrs. Turner's husband, T. K. Turner, is in a serious condition, with a possible chance of recovery, as a result of what Turner declares to have been an agreement of the three persons to end their lives together.

Turner is a realty dealer. Miss Carter came here recently from Massachusetts. Mrs. J. D. Ferrell, on calling at the Turner home, found the two women and Turner lying on the floor, with a sheet spread over them. The girl was dead. Mrs. Turner was dying. Turner was conscious. Two doctors were called. Mrs. Turner died in a short time.

Didn't Want to Live. Turner told the doctors he didn't want to live, and said he would take anything if it would help him to die easily.

Turner said: "The girl had an incurable disease. I am broke down. The old lady was stout, and she had all the work to do. We were tired of living. We made it up to die together."

The first of the week, it is said, the Turners went to a notary and made some arrangements in regard to their property. A store, it is said, was transferred to J. D. Ferrell, a blind man, who makes brooms. The coroner will investigate.

Dressed for Burial. A letter was found, which read: "To whom it may concern: There is no use of asking any questions. The bottle on the dresser will tell how it happened. We are tired of living and all want to die together. We are dressed for burial. You can find enough money in the dresser drawer to give us a cheap burial."

It was signed by T. K. Turner, Mrs. O. Turner, Miss Carter.

FOLK IS NOMINATED FOR STATE DEPARTMENT JOB

Missouri Was Not an Aspirant, Says Bryan, but Was Chosen Because Needed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—President Wilson today made these nominations: Joseph W. Folk of Missouri, Solicitor for the Department of State; James Y. Callahan of Enid, Ok., Register of the Land Office at Woodward, Ok.

Secretary Bryan, in a formal announcement today, declared the Folk was not an aspirant for the position, but that the office was offered to him because of his fitness for the position.

"The position is of special importance at this time, when the administration is dealing with questions affecting the Latin-American republics," said Secretary Bryan.

The Post-Dispatch is the only member of the press to be notified of the nomination of Joseph W. Folk.

OHIO AUTO BANDITS ROB H. C. G. LUYTIES OF MONEY AND CAR

Three Suspects Arrested and Two Confess Soon After Holdup of St. Louisans; Sheriff Wounded.

LOOT FOUND ON PRISONERS; GIRL PUTS RINGS IN MOUTH

Robbers Had Asked to Be Guided to Neighboring Town and Later Lured Luyties to Them by Assertion That Machine Had Gone Wrong.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. TOLEDO, O., Sept. 15.—Motoring from Toledo westward, Herman C. G. Luyties, president of the Sanitol Co., 4264 Laclede avenue, St. Louis, and party of four persons were held up by three men in an automobile, six miles east of Bryan, O., at 12:30 this morning. At the point of revolvers the thieves took $100 in cash, a gold purse carried by one of the women, several diamonds and other jewelry valued at $100.

Later two men were arrested at Montpelier and much of the plunder was recovered. This included two gold watches, one diamond ring valued at $500, $50 in cash and other articles of jewelry. The prisoners confessed and gave their names as Arthur Gerow, 20, of 1218 Evergreen avenue, New York, and William Justice, 20, Philadelphia.

They said the man arrested earlier by Sheriff Weinland was Robert Dwyer, 24, of New York. He had given his name to the Sheriff as R. W. Duffy of Toledo and said he was 18 years old.

Luyties had been spending a vacation in Ohio, and was returning by motor from Toledo to St. Louis. With him in the machine were Charles E. Byrd of St. Louis, his chauffeur, W. E. O'Leary, New York, and two women, who gave their names as Mrs. Smith and daughter, 18 years old, of Chicago.

Luyties Had Befriended Robbers. The robbery was committed six miles east of Bryan. Luyties and his party had dinner at the Secor Hotel in Toledo Wednesday evening and departed on their trip to Chicago about 8 o'clock.

When near the city limits they met the auto containing three young men, who inquired the way to Delta. Luyties informed the trio that he was headed that way and would be glad of their company. Near Bryan the man driving the gray car said something had happened to the mechanism of his machine. Luyties stopped his car and went to the assistance of the men.

No sooner had the male members of the party alighted from Luyties' machine than each of the robbers pulled out two revolvers. After stripping their victims of their valuables, the robbers drove off with Luyties' machine. Luyties ran to a farmhouse and notified the Sheriff by telephone. Sheriff Weinland, with deputies, started on a hunt for the robbers. Luyties and his party returned to the hotel. One bullet grazed the Sheriff's forehead, above the right eye, and the other imbedded itself in his arm. Neither wound is dangerous, physicians say.

The prisoner told an unusual story to the officers at Bryan, but a son of one of the most prominent families in the country," insisted the prisoner. "I opened fire on the Sheriff because I mistook him for one of the gang that is responsible for my plight."

"I met the party at Buffalo on last Sunday night. They were say fellows and after a time in the city they invited me to take a joy ride. I innocently accompanied them and they forced me into assisting them in their robbery."

Girl Saves Her Rings. A ring, stolen from one of the members of the Luyties party was taken this morning from the prisoner who gives his name as Duffy.

Diamond rings, valued at $500, were saved by Miss Smith, who concealed them in her mouth.

Luyties' car bore Missouri license tag No. 8739.

Detroit Police Exchange Shots With Robber Suspects. DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 15.—Local police believe that two of the men who held up and robbed an automobile party of five near Bryan, O., shortly after last midnight, passed through Detroit this forenoon in a high-powered automobile, which it is believed they stole after abandoning the two cars near the scene of the robbery. When the police attempted to intercept them, several shots were exchanged and the automobile sped on toward Mount Clemens, Mich.

When the policemen offered the driver to stop they received a shot in reply. The police then fired three times and five shots were returned.

Kentuckian Refuses to Halt and Is Wounded, Fleeing in East Side Yards.

William Wilkins, who says his home is in Highland Park, Ky., was shot in the right hip at 11:15 a. m. Thursday by John Arnold, a special agent of the U. S. N. railroad, at Twenty-fifth and Lynch streets, East St. Louis. He is in Henrietta Hospital, and probably will recover.

Arnold reported that he saw the man get off a freight train on which he had been stealing a ride, and called to him to halt. The man ran, and Arnold fired on him. He was not arrested, but said he would be ready to answer any charge that might result from the shooting.

U. S. ASKED FOR TROOPS TO GUARD WALL STREET

Financiers Petition War Department to Increase Force on Governor's Island.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—More than 20 New York financiers have petitioned the war department to increase the number of troops in Governor's Island to protect Wall Street and the financial district from more uprisings of foreign invasion. The movement for increased military protection is said to have been started by Charles E. Warren of the Lincoln National Bank of New York. Scores of printed petitions have poured in on the New York Senators and have been sent to the War Department.

Governor's Island in New York harbor, a comparatively short distance from the financial district, has only a small detachment of soldiers. The financiers petitioned that it was the course of wisdom to have that force increased so that the soldiers might respond to any emergency likely to arise in New York City, particularly the commercial section.

FATHER SCHMIDT'S CLOSE FRIEND ENDS LIFE IN GERMANY

This Leads to Speculation Regarding Mysterious Murder of Phone Girl.

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—Dispatches from Aschaffenburg, the birthplace of the priest, Schmidt, have given rise to much speculation as to the death of a telephone girl named Haas, who lived near the Schmidt home, and who was found murdered shortly before the priest left Aschaffenburg. This speculation was intensified by the suicide yesterday of a school inspector named Helm, who had been a close friend of Schmidt and who, it is said, has kept in close touch with Schmidt by letter since the latter's departure for the United States.

In view of the developments in New York, it is now believed in his native city that Schmidt might have murdered the telephone girl, the mystery of whose death never has been solved. The scene of the Haas murder was Ruechelberg Hill, near Father Schmidt's home. The suicide of Helm followed closely on receipt by him of information concerning Father Schmidt's crime in New York. That there is any connection between this suicide and the Schmidt crime, or that Father Schmidt had anything to do with the murder of the Haas girl, is a matter of local suggestion, and there is no basis of fact for this suggestion.

The Post-Dispatch correspondent has not as yet been able to find the four members of the Schmidt family who are said to be confined in insane asylums.

Schmidt's mother, the priest, and by the news of her son's crime and is said to be critically ill with heart disease.

Father Schmidt Stole Money From Worshippers' Letters

was found, one that has started the detectives on the trail of a young woman known as Helen Green. The letter, addressed to the priest, was filled with affectionate expressions. Only the apartment number and the telephone number were signed to the love letter. The telephone was in an apartment house at 21 West One Hundred and Ninth street. The apartment was 12. This apartment, at the time the letter was written, had been occupied by a woman giving the name of Helen Green, who went to Chicago, ostensibly about a month ago, requesting that her mail be sent to her under that name, General Delivery, Chicago.

Three days after he murdered Anna Ammeller, Father Schmidt rented the flat on the fourth floor of 2628 Eighth avenue, near One Hundred and Thirty-seventh street. In this flat were found two suitcases containing clothing belonging to the priest and the girl he killed, and partly made clothes for Anna Ammeller. When asked by note in the Tribune why he rented a second flat, Schmidt said:

"For a warehouse in which to store my things while I was in Europe." Inspector Faurot said there was every probability of another important arrest in the case.

Leaves Engraving Abroad. Schmidt has confessed to Capt. Henry of the United States secret service and to Detective Casazza that he had learned the art of engraving and that long before he came to the United States he had thought of becoming a counterfeiter. When asked why he intended to do this, he said: "To increase my social standing."

He admitted he had done preliminary engraving of $10 and $20 bills at the flat of Muret, but that the work had been faulty, and that the bills produced had been burned. It was a part of one of these bills which the police found in the One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street flat, which had been rented by Muret and Schmidt jointly and from which the police took a complete outfit for the photo-engraving and manufacture of $10 and $20 bills.

District Attorney Whitman has begun to prepare for the trial of Schmidt. He will send a representative to the New Jersey Inquest, set for tonight. Afterward, it is expected the parts of the body that have been found will be brought to New York.

The case will be presented to the grand jury in October and Whitman expects to bring the case to trial before Judge Foster the last week of the month.

Schmidt's counsel is expected to announce that his client is unable to afford him in preparing the case. The District Attorney then would consent to the appointment of a commission to examine the prisoner and report on his sanity. Whitman will prepare for any defense of the grounds of insanity by having his own alienists examine the prisoner.

Doctor, Probably Muret, Was Under Surveillance in London.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The police authorities at Scotland Yard have no record of Dr. Ernest Muret, the dentist arrested at New York. Their registers, however, show an entry concerning a Dr. Ernst, who, the detectives think, is Muret. Dr. Ernst was under surveillance here in connection with the traffic in women, and the publication of improper literature.

Schmidt's Supposed Woman Friend Not Found in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Detectives today were unable to find any trace of the woman, known as Helen Green, who the New York police believe, was a companion of Father Schmidt, confessed slayer of Anna Ammeller, and Dr. Ernest A. Muret, and who is reported to have left New York for Chicago a month ago. Detectives searched for the woman near the North Clark street place where Muret is said to have practiced medicine under the name of Dr. Arnold Heid, several years ago.

WINTER MILK PRICES TO BE FIXED TODAY

The Executive Committee of the Southern Milk Producers' Association, representing 700 dairymen and farmers of Southern Illinois, met at the Laclede Hotel Thursday to fix the winter wholesale price of milk.

W. C. Robinson, chairman of the Executive Committee, said the summer price of 13 to 15 cents a gallon and $1.40 to $1.50 a hundred pounds had expired, and that the producers would have to pay a higher price for the winter months.

"The winter price of milk is always higher than the summer price," said Robinson, "for the reason that it costs more to produce milk in the winter."

"We are meeting the St. Louis milk dealers to try to agree upon a fair price. I have not the least idea what the price will be. Feed for cows is going to be very high, owing to short age of crops."

TRIAL OF SULZER BEGINS, GOVERNOR IS NOT PRESENT

New York Executive Will Be Represented by Attorneys at Impeachment Hearing.

COURT MERELY ORGANIZES

Members of Frawley Committee Allowed to Sit in Judgment Despite Objections.

By Associated Press.
ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 18.—The impeachment court which will try William Sulzer, Governor of New York State, held its first session today. Organization was perfected and adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning to permit the drafting of rules and methods of procedure to be followed during the remainder of the trial.

As had been expected, counsel for the impeached executive objected to the Senators who served on the Frawley Committee, which unearthed much of the evidence resulting in the impeachment, sitting in judgment upon the Governor. They also objected to Senator Wagner, acting Lieutenant-Governor, becoming a member of the court. Notwithstanding these objections, the Senators were sworn in, Chief Judge Cullen announcing the points raised would be considered later.

Sulzer Not in Courtroom.
Gov. Sulzer was not in the courtroom. When he was called to answer the charges preferred by the Assembly, Judge D. Cady Herrick, his chief counsel, announced that it was the Governor's desire not to appear in person, but to be represented by his attorneys.

Dignity and solemnity marked the entire proceedings in the ornate Senate chamber transformed into a courtroom. In front of heavy mahogany-colored draperies, Chief Judge Cullen of the Court of Appeals, directed the session. Directly in front of him were the opposing counsel and to his right the assembly members.

In the first row of seats his colleagues of the Court of Appeals sat, robed in their black silk gowns. The remainder of the floor space was occupied by the desks and chairs of the Senators. The newspaper men occupied seats at the left of the presiding Judge.

The galleries were filled and outside in the corridors hundreds awaited an opportunity to get a peep into the interior or to hear a line of the proceedings.

Police officers and legislative attaches guarded the doors.

Only One Senator Absent.
All but one of the 51 Senators—John C. Fitzgerald of New York—answered to their names as the roll was called by Patrick E. McCabe, Clerk of the Senate. Senator Fitzgerald is ill.

The Senators appointed a committee of two to notify the Court of Appeals that the Senate "was ready to join with them in completing the court for the trial of the impeachment of William Sulzer."

There was a two-minute silent wait, then, at 12:30 o'clock, the doors opened and the judges, nine in number, clad in their sombre judicial robes, filed solemnly into the chamber.

Roll was called to determine if a majority was present. Judge Gray, who is abroad, was the only absentee. Judge Cullen said the question had been raised as to the right of Judge Haddock, Chase and Miller, designated members of the Court of Appeals to sit as members of the high court. In his opinion, the designated judges should be permitted to sit. Counsel for both sides assented.

Prayer's Right Challenged.
The right of Senator Fitzgerald, chairman of the committee which brought out the evidence against Gov. Sulzer, and other Senators who served on the committee to sit as members of the court, was challenged by the defense, but the objection was not sustained.

Judge Cullen then administered the oath to every member of the court. Each answered "I do" to the following:

"You do solemnly swear truly and impartially, to hear, try and determine the impeachment of the Assembly of the State of New York against William Sulzer, Governor of said State, according to the evidence, so help you God?" The Clerk then called William Sulzer. He did not answer. Judge Herrick announced that Gov. Sulzer desired to appear through counsel. This request was granted by the presiding Judge.

The court, on motion of Senator Wagner, then adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Autumn Selling Is Brisk Here, for Autumn Stocks Are Complete in All Sections!

A St. Louis Store The Grand-Leader is a St. Louis store.

It has been built up by careful study of St. Louis shoppers' wants. It expresses their desires faithfully. It maintains offices in New York, Paris, Berlin, Brussels and London to buy for them.

Their tasks are its law. This has made it a distinctive store in the character of its goods, in the volume of its business.

No store west of the Mississippi river has attained equal success. Grand-Leader proves St. Louis' pre-eminence as a retail merchandising center.

Mr. Ora Cne

The informal talks by Mr. Ora Cne have been a delightful feature of the Opening Days in the Salon des Costumes, and hundreds of women who have heard him will be glad to know that we have made special arrangements whereby Mr. Cne is to be with us the balance of this week.

Tomorrow— Mr. Cne will spend his time on the Main Floor, showing the wonderful possibilities of the new fashions and styles, which are such important requisites of the present season's modes. Mr. Cne will also illustrate the two-fold possibilities of a street gown, and show how one of these practical garments may be converted into the most beautiful costume by the use of such tunics and other accessories as we are now showing.

Boys' Clothing

The following offerings will make tomorrow an advantageous day to select Boys' Clothing for the Fall.

Extra—Rainproof
Slip-ons, $3.95
(with hat to match.)

Just the thing for rainy weather! Guaranteed rainproof Slip-ons of tan cloth. Come in sizes 4 to 16 years, and with rainproof hat to match—special Friday at $3.95.

Boys' Suits, With $3.60 Extra Knickers.

These are splendid serviceable suits, with Norfolk or double-breasted coats, and in sizes 5 to 17 years. The extra pair of knickerbockers insures double serviceable special. $3.60

School Suits, $2.40

The majority of these are small lots and odd sizes selected from our higher-priced lines—many of them are in dark, medium-weight materials, suitable for Fall wear. Come with Norfolk and double-breasted coats, and in sizes 5 to 17 years. On sale Friday at $2.40.

Reefers at $2.95

Children's Reefers, in new Fall styles, in Shepherd plaids, neat mixtures, navy blue serge and red cloth. Sizes 2 to 10 years—special at $2.95.

Odd Knickerbockers, 49c

A good selection of boys' odd knickerbockers, in dark patterns and serviceable, wear-resisting materials. Sizes 5 to 17 years. Choice, 49c each. (Second Floor.)

"Opening" Sale of Autumn Coats

Priced for a "Surprise" at $14.75

Here's a special lot of Coats which we had made up for the Opening Week sales to sell at a price which is very attractive, indeed.

The styles are copies of the higher-class garments—every one of these Coats has been most carefully tailored, and the general finish is that to be found in the average coat to sell at $5 more than Friday's price.

The materials are all the newest—wool broches, in two-tone effects, wool corduroys, cut diagonals, chinchillas, zibelines in plain and plaid effects, bouclés—self-trimmed and some trimmed with leopard-spot figured plushes. Then there are others with corduroy collars and cuffs.

Choice of these stylish three-quarter and seven-eighth length garments, in all sizes, and all specially priced for Friday's sale at $14.75.

Women's Coats, Special at $19.75

A special lot of handsome, new dressy Coats, of such materials as caracul, wool velour, matelasse, mole plush, broadcoted velour, broadtail plush, caracul plush and many other fine fur-fabric cloths. Some trimmed with genuine fur collars of civet or black marten—others combined with black velvet.

The New Duveltyne Coats at $34.75

"Duveltyne" will be extremely popular this Fall and Winter, and will become scarcer as the season advances. It is a material which has a soft suede finish, and the lightness in weight and warmth appeals to every woman.

Come in new shades of dark blue, mahogany, olive and taupe, as well as black. (Third Floor.)

A Friday Sale Which Brings a Group of New Walking Skirts Special at $3.98

A collection of several hundred stylish new Fall Walking Skirts which we do not believe can be equaled in value at the price, $3.98. The makers of these garments claimed for them the best fit, the finest quality of material and the best workmanship as far as tailoring is concerned, that have been seen in many seasons in Skirts to sell at the price.

We believe they were justified in their assertions, and you, too, will agree upon a personal investigation.

The materials are serge, diagonals, whipcords and black and white striped, and the styles include the plain tailored and draped effects.

Clever New Autumn Skirts at $5 and $7.50

Plain and draped styles, and of such materials as whipcords, diagonal serges and corduroys, also black and white stripes. Special, $5 and $7.50.

Other new Fall Skirts of mannish serges, crepe cloth, poplin, satin, black-and-white checks and stripes and new plaids, in the most becoming and attractive styles to wear with separate waists. $9.95 to $39.75 (Third Floor.)

Reefers at $2.95

Children's Reefers, in new Fall styles, in Shepherd plaids, neat mixtures, navy blue serge and red cloth. Sizes 2 to 10 years—special at $2.95.

Odd Knickerbockers, 49c

A good selection of boys' odd knickerbockers, in dark patterns and serviceable, wear-resisting materials. Sizes 5 to 17 years. Choice, 49c each. (Second Floor.)

$1 Cake Sets, 65c

Seven-piece sets, one large Cake Plate and six smaller Plates—with pretty fruit design. Special at 65c set.

50c Hair Receivers, 25c

Great variety of fine China Hair Receivers, all nicely decorated. Usually 50c and 75c, choice, 25c each. (Fifth Floor.)

A Room-Lot Sale of Wall Papers

Offering desirable patterns in one to five lots of a kind, each containing sufficient paper for a room 12x14x9 feet.

Let 1—Kitchen and Back Hall Papers, in block and set designs—at the room lot, $4c.

Let 2—Dainty Bedroom Papers, in florals and stripes, with fancy cut-out borders—room lot, $2.08.

Let 3—Hall and Dining Room Papers, in rich shades. Wide and narrow borders to match. Some patterns outlined with gilt—room lot, $2.16.

Let 4—Plain Oatmeal Papers, in popular shades, with beautiful cut-out borders and ceiling to match—room lot, $2.56.

(Bring room measurements.) (Fourth Floor.)

BERRY MITCHELL, WHO SPENT FORTUNE, IS DEAD

Man Well Known to Older St. Louisans, Made Living Playing Checkers in Chicago.

Berry Mitchell, once well known to an older generation of St. Louisans, was buried in Chicago Wednesday afternoon. Mitchell inherited a fortune and spent most of it in St. Louis more than 30 years ago. He was 63 years old and recently had earned his living as a billiard instructor and professional checker player.

In the early '70s Mitchell surprised his St. Louis friends by going on the stage. He made his debut here in the role of Claude Melotte in the "Lady of Lyons." The venture was a failure.

Later he traveled with theatrical stock companies. For the last few months he ran a concession at Riverview Park in Chicago, agreeing to give a dollar watch to anyone who could beat him playing checkers.

Mitchell's sister, Mrs. Fannie Clark of St. Louis, attended his funeral services.

CAPT. J. J. CORKERY DIES

Won Gold Medal for Caring for Yellow Fever Victims.

Capt. John J. Corkery, who lived for many years in St. Louis, died Wednesday in Brookland, D. C., a suburb of Washington. He was employed in the Internal Revenue Office here during the first administration of President Cleveland, and afterward worked in the office of the Anheuser-Busch brewery.

Recently, on account of ill health, he left St. Louis and went to Brookland. He was 73 years old. He enlisted in the First Missouri Regiment of the Confederate Army, attaining the rank of Captain. After the war he became a planter in Louisiana and during the yellow fever epidemic was a member of the Howard Association of Men, which extended aid to the victims. For this service he was awarded a gold medal by the Governor of Louisiana.

Engineer at St. LONDON, Sept. 17.—John Morrison, who has entered his ninety-eighth year, is still in charge of an engine in the marine store of the Glasgow & Southwestern Railway at Prince's Pier, Greenock.

If it can be recovered the Post-Dispatch lost and found wants will bring back the lost article. Diamonds, money, watches, etc., are among the articles recovered almost daily.

JUDGE HENNING'S SWEARS ERKER'S CHARGE IS FALSE

Jurist Asserts He Made Accounting of Expenses on Trip to Mexico.

HIS REPORT DISAPPEARED

Ex-President of Continental Commercial Co. Says Property Was Worth $3,000,000.

Testifying before Special Commissioner Holtcamp in the suit of Charles Biltz and other stockholders against the officers and directors of the Continental Commercial Co., Circuit Judge Thomas C. Hennings Wednesday declared the statement of August P. Erker that he had not accounted for $200 advanced to him to make an inspection of the company's property in Mexico was willfully and maliciously false.

In support of his testimony, Judge Hennings read into the record a copy of a letter he sent to Erker, containing a detailed report of his expenditures. He said he made the report immediately on his return from Mexico, and filed it with the secretary of the company. It apparently disappeared from the files, he said.

Permitted to Read Report.

Attorneys for the company, who asked Erker whether Hennings had made a report of his expenses, objected to the introduction of the letter in the record. Judge Holtcamp ruled that as a matter of personal privilege Judge Hennings had a right to read the report into the record, and that he would not exclude it for the further reason that the company's attorneys, by their own questions, had introduced the subject.

Judge Hennings' report showed that $100 had been paid in settlement of an attachment suit, which had been run against some of the property of the company. Some other and other property had been seized under the attachment suit. After consulting with a Mexican attorney, the report stated, he decided to settle the attachment suit by paying the amount of the claim, and attorney's fees, thereby obtaining the release of the property.

Charles F. Haanel, former president of the Continental Commercial Co., was put on the stand to testify to the value of the Mexican plantations at the time of his resignation, in January, 1911. He said the coffee and rubber plantations had been damaged by fire, which killed many of the trees, but that the sugar plantation was in good shape. The properties were carried on the books of the company at a valuation of nearly $3,000,000.

Attorneys for the company attempted to get an admission from Haanel that these valuations were too high. He insisted they were not and that they represented the cost of the properties to the company.

Worth More Than $1,000,000.

The attorneys for the stockholders developed from the testimony of Haanel and W. C. Guela, former manager of the plantations, that the 23,000 acres of land was worth, as wild land, from $25 to $30 an acre; that one sugar mill was worth $100,000, and another worth $150,000. According to their estimate, the property, after the fire, and in a run down condition, was worth more than $1,000,000.

It is charged that the directors who took it over on a basis of $10 a bond procured the entire property for approximately $30,000, thereby depriving the stockholders of large sums to which they were entitled.

ENGLAND BARS NEGRO AS DOCTOR FOR POOR

He Is Admitted to Have Best Qualifications, but People Served Are "Fastidious."

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The "color line" is not often drawn in England, but the Camberwell poor law guardians today declined to appoint a negro as district medical officer on the ground that the poor were very fastidious in such matters.

It was admitted at the session of the guardians that the black doctor's qualifications were better than those of the other candidates and some of the guardians wanted to treat him "a brother." The majority of the guardians, however, supported Dr. Robert Capes, who opposed the appointment. He said: "In plain English, he is a 'nigger,' and as such is not a suitable doctor for a post of this sort. The poor are a great deal more fastidious than people imagine. They would refuse to be attended by a man of color."

MERCHANT KILLS NEGRO

Chocolate Maker Shoots Chauffeur Who Attacked Him With Ax.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 18.—In a hand to hand combat with a crazed negro armed with an ax, which occurred in the garage of his residence in Eutaw Place today, Charles G. Guth, president of the Guth Chocolate company, shot and mortally wounded his assailant.

The negro, George Murphy, who had been Guth's chauffeur, died in the patrol wagon while he was being conveyed to a hospital.

Guth was arrested.

INVENTS A DEVICE FOR TESTING TRUTHFULNESS

Briton Says Palms of Hands Attached to Galvanometer Will Show if Emotion Is Concealed.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Cyril Burt, psychologist and member of the London County Council, told the psychology section of the British Association at Birmingham today of an invention for testing truthfulness.

The idea is based on the fact that when a man is endeavoring to conceal any emotion the palms of his hands tend to perspire. They consequently become better conductors of electricity, and when connected with a sensitive galvanometer will show variation of moisture produced on them.

Burt says the experiments already made among London students prove the value of the process, which, he asserts, can be made of great usefulness in cross-examination of witnesses.

GORDON PAYS FORMER CHIEF OF IMMIGRATION

M. V. Carroll, Hadley Appointee, Drops Suit When He Gets $1260.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 18.—State Auditor Gordon today paid to M. V. Carroll, former Chief Immigration Commissioner, $1260 to cover his salary from Jan. 1, 1912, to Aug. 16, and Carroll dismissed his suit against the Auditor.

Carroll was appointed by Gov. Hadley, but no money was appropriated for his salary. He served until Aug. 16 under the Major administration. The Auditor declined to pay him for this period and he brought suit.

Mrs. Marston Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Susan A. Marston, who died of pneumonia Tuesday at the home of her son, Edgar L. Marston, at Chester, N. Y., will be held in the Second Baptist Church, at 2:30 p. m. Saturday.

Friday. She was 84 years old. Mrs. Marston was the widow of the late Samuel W. Marston, for many years pastor of the Fourth Baptist Church.

STOMACH SICK, SOUR, UPSET AND FULL OF GAS?—TRY PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered, you get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear. Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. Diapepsin is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Put an end to stomach trouble by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.—ADV.

GEN. MILES ASKS AID FOR BALKAN PEOPLE

Four Thousand Wounded Bulgars Seen Lying Without Shelter on Field, He Writes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—As an indirect appeal for funds for the relief of thousands in Bulgaria, the Red Cross today made public a letter received from Lieutenant-General Nelson A. Miles, in which the retired army officer portrays the horrors that have attended the war in the Balkans.

Starvation, inadequate hospital service and absence of medical stores are among the calamities that Bulgarian people are menaced by. In one field Gen. Miles declared, he saw 4,000 wounded men lying without shelter from the sun or rain.

"No more urgent cause was ever presented than the present," says Gen. Miles, "and no more urgent appeal was ever made to the generous human spirit of America."

Gen. Miles recommended that a part of the funds, possibly one-fourth be sent to the Red Cross of Serbia.

TROLL TURNED HIS NAME AROUND TO CHRISTEN COMPANY

Former Administrator Tells of Relations With Lort Concern, but Denies Financial Interest.

HAS ONE SHARE, HE SAYS

Head of Company, Arthur Marshall, Was Deputy in His Office for Eight Years.

Harry Troll, former Public Administrator, testifying in depositions taken in the case of Minnie E. Norton against the Lort Realty and Investment Co., Albert G. Blanke, J. L. Sprague and Henrietta Loeb, in which fraud in the sale of real estate is charged, said that the Lort company's name was obtained by spelling his name backwards.

Troll stated that he made the suggestion of a name for the realty company in his capacity as its attorney. He testified that he was not one of the original incorporators; that at present he owned but one share of stock in it, and that he held this as a matter of friendship for the president of the company, Arthur Marshall.

Miss Norton August sold $200,000 worth of notes secured by second and third deeds of trust on certain real estate to Troll for $200,000. Troll said he bought these notes as an attorney and adviser of his brother, Charles Troll.

He testified that when the property was sold under a foreclosure sale and bought in by the Lort company for $150,000, he received this much cash from the company and credited it to his brother's account. The subsequent sale of the property from the realty company to J. L. Sprague and then to Henrietta Loeb, Troll said, he was not concerned with.

He denied having any financial interest in the Lort company or of being the "man behind" as previous depositions attempted to show.

Arthur Marshall testified that he owned 15 of 20 shares of capital stock in the Lort company and said they belonged to him outright. Marshall was a deputy in Troll's office for eight years while Troll was Public Administrator. Morris Aach of 618 McPherson, a realty dealer, said he made the final purchase of the property in litigation, as agent for his mother-in-law, Henrietta Loeb, who resides with him. He denied having any connection with any of the other parties to the suit in effecting this sale. He said he advised his mother-in-law to buy the property as a speculative investment.

NOVELTIES SEEN AT NEUSTETER STORE

Women attracted to the annual opening of the many stores in St. Louis found novelties galore in the newest styles and latest fashions for the fall and winter at Neusteter's, Seventh street and Washington avenue. On every side of the various floors, decorated with smiling palms and flowers, there is breathed forth an atmosphere of exclusiveness in the various designs in women's gowns, blouses, cloaks, suits, hats and exquisite underwear. No department in all of the Neusteter store attracts more attention than the new millinery section. Here, are shown the latest creations from the boulevards of Paris, the West End of London and the Fifth avenue of America's greatest city.

The Neusteter store is spreading itself this year. The millinery department is the latest of its innovations. In connection with this section of the store is a French room patterned in miniature after one of the most famous shops on the Rue de la Paix, Paris.

On the first floor, where there are blouses, crepe de chine underwear and petticoats, is displayed the "tango petticoat," an original conception of Neusteter's, designed to rid the slashed skirt of any immodesty—yet at the same time permits the freedom of motion so necessary to the grace of the new dance. There is also an exhibition of furs, including novelties in the new canary fox and chinchilla.

The blue and white costume salon, on the second floor, contains an attractive display of evening gowns, especially suitable for the V. P. ball, as well as for the dinners and dances for the coming season. In this section are also to be seen street suits for all occasions. Duvernoy and Peau de Poche, two of this season's new neckties, are found exquisitely developed into the latest fashions.

The fourth floor of the Neusteter establishment is devoted to the outfitting of girls and juniors from the ages of 12 to 18. As on all the other floors of the building, bargains and courteous treatment are to be found here.

MAN AND GIRL ARRESTED

Police Hold St. Charles Couple for Mann Act Inquiry.

Roy Semon, 22 years old, and Miss Mona Franke, 17, both of St. Charles, are held by the police until Federal authorities have an opportunity to decide whether violation of the Mann act can be charged.

Miss Franke, who says she is a vaudeville actress, told the police that she and Semon, who is married, came to St. Louis from St. Charles 10 days ago and then went to North Vanies, Ill., where for a week they were known as man and wife. Her father came to St. Louis to search for her Wednesday and found her at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. A. Beecher, a boarding house keeper at 404 Lindell boulevard.

CASCARETS FOR SLUGGISH BOWELS, BILIOUS HEADACHE AND SALLOW SKIN.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin, and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and constipated bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and make you feel cheerful and bulky for months. Don't forget your children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too, occasionally—ADV.

My Doctor Said!

"I would never get well," writes Mrs. Jennie Cassidy, of Brimhurst, Ind. "For years I suffered with different forms of women's troubles, and had pains all over—especially in my head and back. I was not able to do my own work. My heart bothered me, and it seemed like everything I ate would turn sour. I suffered miserably at intervals, and could scarcely drag around. After taking 6 bottles of CARDUI, in two months' time, it cured me. I recommend CARDUI to all my friends. I wish all suffering women would try it as I did, for they would certainly be benefited." $35 and $40 Sample Coats at $24.75

THESE Sample Coats were bought of a New York maker of high-class pile fabric coats, embracing broadtail, caracul, Persian lamb, broadcloth plush and velvet, genuine sealetta plush and mole plush, and this maker being prominent in his line, has produced the most elegant garments that have ever been on display in St. Louis, or anywhere else. There are elegant plain tailored models, 48 to 50 inches long, also fancy trimmed and draped effects—many are fur-trimmed with civet cat, ermine, skunk, maffion, etc. We bought these samples at an immense reduction, enabling us to offer the most astounding values at the beginning of the season. You can be sure that every coat is correct in style, and being a sample is especially well made. Remember, there are no two alike and the quantity is limited. They are coats that would sell in the regular way for $35.00, $40.00 and $45.00; priced Friday at $24.75.

$300,000 DAMAGE SUIT FILED AGAINST 3 FILM CONCERNS

Swanson-Crawford Action Based on Anti-Trust Law Against Illegal Combinations.

RIVAL FIRM ESTABLISHED

Alleged That Defendants Have Ignored Release Dates on Motion Pictures.

The Swanson-Crawford Film Co. filed Wednesday in the Circuit Court, a damage suit for $300,000 against the Film Exchange Corporation of Virginia, Mutual Film Corporation of Delaware, Mutual Film Corporation of Missouri and Frederick A. Keller, St. Louis agent for the defendants. The action is based on the anti-trust law, which prohibits illegal combinations of trade.

The petition alleges that up to June 1, 1913, there were two large wholesale film concerns in the United States, the General Film Co. of New York, and the Motion Picture Distributing and Sales Co. of New York.

Later the Film Exchange and the Mutual Film Corporation tried to purchase the rental exchange of the Swanson-Crawford Co. It is claimed, and falling in that, tried to get control of its capital stock. Incidentally, the defendants, according to the petition, tried to place in management of the St. Louis concern a man who would look after their interests and, when that plan did not succeed, established the Mutual Film Corporation of Missouri here as a rival.

Three-Fold Damages Asked. Since the establishment of the Missouri company, the petition recites, the Swanson-Crawford company has had to pay in advance for the service furnished by the defendants, while customers of the Missouri company are allowed credit and lower rates. It also is alleged that the defendants have ignored release dates, permitting customers of their Missouri subsidiary to show well advertised films in advance of the clients of the local concern. The petition further states that the defendants have established subsidiary corporations in several states embraced in the territory covered by the Swanson-Crawford company.

The plaintiffs ask for three-fold damages, as provided for under the anti-trust law.

THREE SONS HELD FOR MURDER OF RICH MISSOURIAN

Hammons, Bound Over in $30,000 Bail Each, Alleged to Have Plotted to Get Estate.

By Associated Press. STOCKTON, Mo., Sept. 18.—Charged with complicity in the murder of their father, J. C. Hammons, Oscar Hammons, a merchant of Dunnegan, Mo., and Albert and Arthur Hammons, well-to-do farmers of Cedar County, were bound over to the Criminal Court at the close of their preliminary hearing here today.

The body of the elder Hammons, showing three bullet wounds was found in an orchard on his Cedar County farm June 12 last. The three sons were arrested recently when conducting an administrator's sale of their father's estate. Lloyd Hammons, a fourth son, charged by the state with firing the shots that caused the father's death, has not been found.

At the preliminary hearing, which lasted three days, it developed that the state will attempt to prove that the sons conspired to rid themselves of their father to get possession of his valuable estate. Bond was fixed at $30,000 for each of the three sons, and they went to jail in default.

LANDLORD WHO RAISED RENT SUED FOR $4000

Woman Says She Suffered Discomfort When Doors and Windows Were Removed to Eject Her.

A suit for $4000 damages was brought Thursday by Mrs. Emma Berger against Gottfried Lay of 205 East Warner avenue, alleging that he raised her rent from $12 to $16 a month without written notice, and that in order to eject her removed five doors and two windows. Before her husband could put them back she suffered discomfort from cold air and rain, she says. This is alleged to have taken place Oct. 24, 1910. Lay told Mrs. Berger she was the "meanest woman in the block" and shook her in demanding increased rent, she alleges.

SUES FOR $600,000 AS FEE FOR OPTION ON MILLIKEN MINE

Promoter Alleges After He Arranged Purchase of Golden Cycle Deal Collapsed.

FROZEN OUT, HE SAYS

New Yorker Declares He Was Hired to Form Big Colorado Consolidation.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Litigation involving two of the biggest mining companies in the United States was begun in the Supreme Court today when Robert A. C. Peterson, a wealthy promoter, filed suit for an accounting against the El Paso Consolidated Mining Co. of Colorado, alleging that he had been "frozen out" of the corporation. At the same time he brought an action against the Colorado Mines, Railways and Utilities Corporation of Colorado to collect a fee of $600,000 for negotiating the purchase of the "golden cycle," a famous gold mine, from John T. Milliken of St. Louis. The Colorado Mines, Railways and Utilities Corporation is a $25,000,000 concern, and the golden cycle mine is estimated to be worth $5,000,000.

Peterson includes as defendants in his action against the El Paso concern, Joseph Walker, his son, Joseph Jr., E. Rollins Walker, Clarence Young, George W. Stewart, Allen L. Burns and Oakley S. Vanderpool. The promoter alleges that in November, 1911, he conceived the idea of forming all of the mine properties in which he and others were interested into a giant corporation to control every paying mine that could be obtained.

He made an agreement with the Walkers whereby they were to finance the corporation while he was to furnish the plan for the organization. Under this agreement, he was to receive 10 per cent of the property and profits, but when he asked for his share, he alleges, he was told there was nothing coming to him. The Colorado Mines, Railways and Utilities Corporation was formed, Peterson says, with the same object in view. The chief reason for forming the company was, he says, to acquire control of the Golden Cycle mine, which was essential to the scheme. The Walkers, he said, promised him 10 per cent commission if he could get it for $8,000,000, but after he got the option they repudiated the agreement.

Oklahoma Man Tells About Kidney Remedy

Several months ago I was taken with severe pains in my back, due to diseased kidneys and was forced to give up my daily labors. I heard of your great kidney remedy and resolved to try it. I did so with wonderful results. Since taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root I have had no trouble from my kidneys. I am giving this testimonial of my own free will to let others know the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root. If you should care to, you are at liberty to publish this testimonial whenever you choose.

Very truly yours,

CONFEDERATE MEN ARE BARRED FROM THE G. A. R. PARADE

Notice of Exclusion Served on Southerners While They Prepare to Form in Line.

HAD BEEN ASKED TO JOIN

Edict Is Issued When It Is Learned Women, Also, Planned to Take Part.

By Associated Press. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 18.—Enforcement of an order excluding women and civilians from the annual parade of the Grand Army of the Republic yesterday prevented the N. R. Forrest Camp of the United Confederate Veterans from participating in the pageant. Clad in their gray uniforms, the Southerners were preparing to form in the line of march with Forsythe Post, No. 15, of Toledo, O., when they were informed of the order.

An invitation to join in the parade had been tendered Col. E. T. Dickinson, commander of Forrest Camp, by Col. Henry N. Hanson, commander of the Forsythe Post. When they were ready to take their places, Col. Dickinson was informed that the Commander of the Department of Ohio, Col. W. R. Warnock, had been instructed to bar everyone from the parade except Union veterans. The Confederate veterans appeared distressed, but as they marched quietly back to their headquarters, they were greeted with cheers by Union veterans.

Dickinson Explained.

In a statement, Col. Dickinson said: "We regretted the incident very much, but I believe our comrades, and especially those in the Forsythe Post, were even more distressed. We hold no ill-feeling towards the rank and file of the boys in blue. The boys in blue are with us, and for us, and we are with, and for them. To show that there is no hard feeling against any of them, we are tendering them an invitation to visit our camp tomorrow night. This invitation is to the rank and file of the boys in blue."

The following explanation of the incident was made in a statement by Commander-in-Chief Alfred B. Beers of the G. A. R.:

"Yesterday I learned that there was a body of women here planning to take part in the Grand Army of the Republic parade. I also understood that the women were from Ohio. For this reason I called the attention of the commander of the Department of Ohio to the following extract from general order No. 10, which reads: 'Women and civilians are prohibited from participating in the parade, and department commanders are directed to enforce this order in their respective departments.'"

"I didn't know an invitation had been extended to Confederate veterans to take part in the parade. It certainly was not tendered by headquarters, nor was the permission of headquarters asked to extend such an invitation, nor was the endorsement of such an invitation by headquarters asked."

"The Confederate camp was not excluded because its members were former Confederate soldiers, but because it is the policy of the Grand Army of the Republic to have only its members in the parade with the exception of Sons of Veterans, who were officially invited as escorts."

Twelve thousand Union survivors of the Civil War marched in the parade. In the face of rain, the veterans trudged between human walls of cheering spectators along the entire route.

Over 11,000 Veterans Died Last Year. More than 11,000 Union veterans of the Civil War died during the 12 months ending Dec. 31, last, and more than 160,000 veterans are still on the rolls of the Grand Army of the Republic, according to Alfred B. Beers, Commander-in-Chief, who delivered his address today.

The year started with a membership of 191,846, Beers said, and 14,779 were added to the rolls by muster, transfer and reinstatement. The losses were as follows: By death, 11,338; by honorable discharge, 438; by transfer, 1765; by suspension, 676; by dishonorable discharge, 63; by delinquent reports, 428, and by surrender of charter, 103, making a total loss, partly offset by gain, of 25,338. Beers urged that the Pension Committee present a bill to Congress granting a pension of $75 a month to blind veterans. He also recommended that an effort be made to have repealed a law providing that widows of veterans, who married after June 17, 1890, should not be entitled to pensions.

GOVERNMENT RESTORES

748,393 ACRES TO ENTRY

Tracts in Montana and Other States Found Not to Contain Minerals or Water Power.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Public lands to the extent of 748,393 acres were restored to entry in August, the United States Geological Survey today announcing that investigation of their possibilities for minerals or water power disclosed the fact that they contained neither. In the same month 236 acres were withdrawn from entry in California until the Survey has opportunity to look into the waterpower possibilities they contain.

By far the largest tract of land restored lies in Montana, where more than 500,000 acres is thrown open to homesteaders. The remaining land is in Colorado, New Mexico, North Dakota, Utah, Wyoming, Oregon, Idaho and Washington.

MEXICO REFUGEES DECLARE FLIGHT WAS UNNECESSARY

139 From Yaqui Valley Say
They Relied on Advice of American Consul Vail.

DESERT HOMES, BUSINESS

Own Communication Shut Off,
They Thought President's Order Forecast Trouble.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 18.—A statement setting forth their reasons for leaving Mexico was issued by 139 refugees who arrived here aboard the cruiser Buffalo from the west coast of the Southern republic.

The statement follows:

"On board U. S. S. Buffalo, Sept. 18, 1913:

"We, residents of the Yaqui valley, desire to state the following facts concerning the exodus of the American and other foreign residents from the Yaqui valley, Sonora, Mexico, on Sept. 7, 1913:

"No uneasiness was felt by the American residents until Consul Vail of the U. S. A., located at Guaymas, Sonora, personally visited Yaqui valley on Sept. 4, 1913, accompanied by Lieut. J. R. Henley of the U. S. Marines and exhibited a telegram dated Washington, D. C., Aug. 27, 1912, and signed by Secretary of State Bryan, which stated that the President earnestly urged all Americans to leave Mexico and that the U. S. S. Buffalo was then waiting at an adjacent point to embark all those desiring to leave. The Consul added his personal advice that every one avail themselves of the opportunity and conform to the President's request.

"Home Abandoned.

"Relying entirely upon these representations, we have abandoned our homes, together with real and personal property of greater or less value.

"Since about March 1, 1913, we have been without train service or mail, and for that reason we could not intelligently judge for ourselves the necessities of the case. Both contending factions in the present disturbance in Mexico have visited the Yaqui Valley, but neither side has committed any overt act toward foreigners, nor disturbed our homes or property.

"The continued disturbed conditions paralyzed business generally, and made it impossible to realize returns upon any crops, thereby creating temporary financial embarrassment.

"Despite these conditions, we were continuing to harvest crops and preparing land for extensive fall planting. Knowing the aptitude of some persons to exaggerate facts for momentary personal notoriety, this statement is deemed expedient for all concerned.

"U. S. Protection Asked.

"We have left Mexico entirely under the urgency of the United States Government, feeling that they had complete knowledge of the situation throughout the republic of Mexico, and not desiring to in any way embarrass our Government, we have complied promptly with their request to leave Mexico, thereby suffering substantial financial loss, and we also feel that we are therefore justified and are relying upon the United States Government to protect our Mexican interests now and in the future."

Among the refugees on the Buffalo was W. R. Hornbeck, for many years a miner in Sonora. The trouble in Mexico ruined his business, and he was without funds. The Buffalo sailors made up a purse of $200 for him and placed the money by his side when he was asleep. Hornbeck was deeply affected when he awoke and found the purse.

THE HEALTH OF
SCHOOL CHILDREN

Three Times as Many Die in Cities
as in the Country.

The strain upon young children during school hours is severe, and parents should have a care that the little ones are strong enough to withstand this strain. Every child should be well nourished and the organs made to work naturally, otherwise permanently injured health will result.

If the child is sickly, run down, as you call it, nine times out of ten it is because of carelessness in protection from the weather. If the child has a cold, be careful of the medicine you use. Above all, be sure that it is pure, that it is not a mere compound of stimulants or dangerous drugs, such as morphine, alcohol, etc., contained in patent medicines.

For a family medicine, a cure for the child's cold, a food for the little body, something that will give vigor and stamina to the system, Father John's Medicine is unequalled. Its merits can be stated in such unqualified terms because it has been tried and tested for half a century, since it was recommended by the Rev. Fr. John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., for whom it was prescribed.

No better proof of its value for children is necessary than the fact that it has been used in St. Peter's orphan asylum, Lowell, Mass., for years, and is today. It would be impossible to find a healthier lot of children than the little ones so well and kindly cared for at this institution.

Jim Thorpe, Famous Indian Athlete, to Wed Cherokee Girl

Friends of Bride Elect and Her
Fiance Are Taken by Surprise.

CARLETON, Pa., Sept. 18.—When Jim Thorpe, member of the New York Giants and world-famous athlete, married his little Indian bride, Miss Margaret Miller, a Cherokee, the date for which has not yet been exactly set, but will probably be named for early in the autumn, there is going to be a wedding celebration of the kind which this town, and others that matter, have never seen.

Reported to have been in progress for a week at Tusculum, Tenn., near the Yonkers Hotel. The bride number is estimated at 1000. They have several cannons. Fifteen rebel shells are reported to have fallen in the town. Tusculum is a mining town, and headquarters of an American company.

Zamacois Denies He Is In U. S. Seeking Loan for Mexico.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Manuel Zamacois, who was reported to have come to this country from Mexico to obtain a loan of $5,000,000 to finance the Oel obligations of the National Railways of Mexico and to resume negotiations at Washington for his Government, was in the financial district today. He stated his visit to the United States was purely on private business and that he was not on any secret mission to the Government. He also denied that he was seeking a loan for the National Railways.

MRS. JULIA G. CABANNE
IS DEAD AT AGE OF 63

Succumbs After Illness of Two Months; Funeral to Be Held Tomorrow Morning.

The funeral of Mrs. Julia Goodie Cabanne of 354 Vernon avenue, wife of Sarry Carr Cabanne, will be held at 10 a. m. Friday, from St. Rose's Church, Maple and Goodfellow avenues, and interment will be in Calvary Cemetery. Mrs. Cabanne died at 7:40 o'clock Wednesday night, at her home, of heart disease, after an illness of two months. Her condition did not become serious until two weeks ago. She was 63 years old. She was a native of St. Louis and was educated at Visitation Convent.

She was a daughter of the late George W. Goodie of Richmond, Va., granddaughter of the late Judge Robert Walsh and great-granddaughter of Maj. William Christy, a veteran of the war of 1812. Her marriage took place April 7, 1888, at Trinity Episcopal Church, and the wedding was a brilliant social event.

Mrs. Cabanne was a cousin of Mrs. J. Charles Cabanne. She is survived by nine children—J. Duthiel, Mrs. Frances Cabanne Scovel, Charles G. Julius G. Mrs. Parker, wife of Capt. A. A. Parker, U. S. A., stationed at Fort McKinley, Manila, P. I.; Mrs. Edwin Link, William C. Jean Sarry and Emmeline Maffitt Cabanne. Mrs. Cabanne's sons, her son-in-law, Edwin Link, and Frank Harnay and Robert Walsh will be pallbearers. Her brother, Maj. George W. Goodie of Fort Hill, Ok., is expected at the funeral. Another brother, Howard W. Goodie, lives in St. Louis.

FOUND $650,000 PEARLS, COULDN'T GET BEER ON ONE

Piano Maker in Jolly Mood
Makes Rounds of London Saloons With 'Marble' Beads.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1913, by Press Publishing Co.
(New York World).

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The romance of the great $650,000 pearl necklace which has been agitating the police of Paris and London ever since its disappearance in July in transit by registered mail from France, is still only partly told. Today further astonishing details were revealed.

Augustus Horn, the piano maker, who found 58 pearls from the necklace in the street Tuesday, visited a number of saloons, showing his treasure to anyone who cared to see it, and this is what happened, according to Edwin Lewis, who accompanied Horn on his little thirst-quenching tour:

"When Horn brought the pearls into the Swan public house, he had a drink and then pulled out of his pocket a dirty matchbox, and said:

"I found these beads this morning in the street. I said: 'Well, what about it? They are no good; sling them in the gutter. I would not give a shilling for the lot.'"

"Horn replied: 'I don't know what they are worth, but I'm going to take them to the police station.' So off we went to the Caledonian Police Station. We got there at 9 o'clock. Horn was in a bit of a hurry, and he was in the station about 15 minutes, and when he came out he said the police had told him the things were marbles worth nothing, and that they would probably be given to the museum. Horn was given a lost property ticket as a receipt, and as it was then too late to go to work before dinner, he went and had more drinks.

"At one saloon Horn was fumbling in his pockets when he pulled out another marble which he said must have dropped out of the matchbox. He laughingly offered it to a man in the bar in exchange for a glass of beer. The man would not have it, so we went on."

"We next called at the public house opposite Holloway Castle, where Horn pulled out the marble again and made jokes about it, offering to sell the thing for a penny, but no one wanted it."

In a less frivolous mood today, Horn is oppressed with fear about his share in the $650,000 reward, the police having refused to express any opinion as to what he will get, if anything.

Meanwhile Quadrasteln and Brandstater, the two diamond brokers who secured the arrest of the five men accused of complicity in the theft, maintain the reward is entirely theirs. Horn, however, has been offered legal assistance to establish his claims to the lion's share if it should be contested.

He is engaged now in trying to trace the pearl he vainly offered for a penny. It has disappeared from his pocket, and as he visited so many saloons on Tuesday and has such a confused recollection of the events of the day the search is likely to be unfruitful.

Further arrests are expected, as the police profess to know the person who had the pearls in his possession.

Grocer Seriously Hurt by Car.

Sam Castello, a grocer at 610 South Fourth street, was taken to the city hospital with concussion of the brain and serious internal injuries Thursday, when a Broadway car knocked him from his wagon at Natural Bridge avenue.

JAPANESE ENVOY AND PRESIDENT TO DISCUSS ALIEN LAW

Tokio Government, Goaded by Jingoism, Grows Restive
Under American Delay.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Viscount Chinda, the Japanese Ambassador, had an engagement with President Wilson today to discuss the California alien law.

He has had several conferences with Secretary Bryan, but no answer has been made to the fourth Japanese note sent two weeks ago, and the Tokio Government, contending with elements attacking the ministry not only for its difficulties with China, but with the United States as well, is said to be growing uneasy under the delay.

Counselor John Bassett Moore, who has been framing previous notes to Japan, is away on a vacation, and is not expected back until next week.

Today's conference with President Wilson, however, has been generally interpreted in official circles here as a result of pressure upon Ambassador Chinda from the home Government to get definite word as to when a reply is to be expected, and to hasten the progress of the negotiations.

$500,000 MANSION RAZED
BY AN INCENDIARY FIRE

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Fire, probably of incendiary origin, today destroyed Theobald Park, a beautiful mansion at Waltham Cross, belonging to Admiral Sir Rodworth Lambton-Meux. The mansion, with a large fortune, was bequeathed to Admiral Lambton by the late Lady Meux on condition that he take the name of Meux. The loss is estimated at $500,000.

Grove House, another mansion belonging to the Meux estate, was burned last year.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.
April 10, 1907. JOSEPH PULITZER.

WHO GETS THE DIFFERENCE?

As a result of Delegate Deffas's investigations it appears that the city is paying several dollars per ton above the market price for alleged hay. Without reference to the quality of the hay, why should the city be gouged in this manner? Who is responsible for the letting of such a contract, involving as it does about $64,000 a year? And who profits by such a swindle?

If the facts bear out Delegate Deffas's description there is a big straw man to be burned up at the City Hall and his name is Graft.

WHEN EXPENSE IS STAGGERING.

Under Speaker Clark's flood protection and drainage bill, the United States will assume the responsibility for keeping interstate water under the Federal control which now exists only as a legal fiction. Incidentally, under the same system, enough land will be drained between St. Louis and the mouth of the Mississippi to support a population larger than that of Ireland.

This is practicable, but it is practicable only at staggering expense. The grand total will be perhaps a fourth as much as jingolism has cost the country in years of peace during this generation. If we can get rid of the expense of jingolism we can afford a number of improvements that are worth the cost. It is only the cost of folly and waste that is really staggering.

The 40 Bishops who will visit St. Louis late in October will be welcome. Besides they will help to take St. Louis' mind off the close of the league season.

LENGTHENING THE COURT YEAR.

By setting jury cases for immediate trial, instead of waiting until October, Judge Grimm and Judge Cave have decided that the entire month of September is not to be eliminated from the legal year, so far as the purposes of St. Louis courts are concerned.

Practically the court year, in defiance of almanacs, has been less than nine months long. Late in June all activities except hearings on motions and writs have been suspended until October. We believe September can be made a very useful month. Its restoration, making a court year of nearly 10 months, suggests a further lengthening. Why cannot we have a court year of as many months as the solar year?

The indolence of leisure-loving but able-bodied judges has no small responsibility for scandalous delays in the course of justice. No plan of reform can give satisfactory results as long as the courts are in recess during one-fourth of the time. The distribution of vacations is inequitable when judges take three months and the taxpayers who defray their salaries get only a couple of weeks or no vacation at all.

To increase by 25 per cent the time during which courts are in session and hence to increase by 25 per cent judicial efficiency and expedition might be distasteful to court officers and lawyers. But it would be very attractive to litigants and to the public.

If the Rev. Hans Schmidt has two personalities it would be safe to execute both of them.

DUTCH WOMEN CAPTURE HOLLAND.

The ease with which the Dutch women have taken Holland can hardly be without its effect on an unbending, stubborn country only a few miles distant across the North Sea. A Cabinet at The Hague, more progressive than the Cabinet at London, announces the early introduction of a constitutional amendment removing voting limitations now imposed on the women of the Netherlands. Only in Scandinavian countries has a change of such importance been preceded by less of strident agitation on the part of the women themselves for enforcing their rights. The Cabinet seems to be in advance even of general Holland sentiment. Apparently it has yielded to the intelligent thought of the times rather than to political expediency.

Manhood suffrage practically prevails in the country at present, the property qualification being placed so low that a man paying 40 cents income tax can vote. Eligibility to many offices, however, is more strictly defined. Along with the concession to women will come an enlargement of the political rights of the men akin to that recently enforced by the general strike in adjacent Belgium.

Distinctively Teutonic countries are supposed to be the most unsympathetic toward feminine participation in public affairs. Holland's departure is for this reason the more interesting. If the London Cabinet can study with profit The Hague Cabinet's responsiveness, London women may perhaps study with equal profit the Dutch women's campaign methods.

Murderers elsewhere waiting the noose or electric chair will be resigned to the dispositions of impartial justice by the one-cent fine inflicted on the Kentucky killer.

DRIFTING ON THE ROCKS.

Almost any pretext serves delay. Mayor Kiel has already abundantly shown his disposition to evade a straight, clean bond issue to complete the bridge in accord with public demand. Another week's delay to temporize with the East St. Louis gold brick offer goes further to destroy the hope that the Mayor's bridge committee can be of service to St. Louis.

It indicates plainly the dangerous course which Mayor Kiel is steering—or rather drifting. Heading for the rocks, his administration can only be saved from being ground to pieces by a quick and firm hand at the helm.

The business of completing the bridge was the one big business that lay before Mayor Kiel. To complete it in an honest, straightforward, businesslike manner was the duty he assumed before the people of St. Louis.

To fail in this respect will be to fail utterly and go down in ruin and ignominy. The bridge can be completed in but one way—the right way, the clean way, the way of self-respect, by the city of St. Louis itself.

The Chinese are adopting American hose supporters and American women promise to substitute the two-hook for the 40-hook gown. Affairs are looking up.

AN AMAZING MAN.

A strange and wonderful man is William Howard Taft, our greatest living ex-President, bar none. He sat in the White House four vexatious years, he smiled and worried and was universally abused. He was dictated to by practically everybody in the country, and he tried with all the energy of a fat man to please everyone. Senator Dolliver described him as "a large amiable body entirely surrounded by men who know exactly what they want." He played golf, but so far as the record shows, he never beat anybody who already had a job. He watched the Republican party divide from the strongest array of votes in the history of the country to a shadow that could carry no state with more than four electoral votes.

But in spite of all this he waxed fat almost beyond belief. He acquired so much adipose tissue that we felt apologetic when foreigners saw him. And then he went out of office amidst loud cheers from all concerned.

He soon obtained a pleasant position teaching school, at a salary of $5000 a year, and was invited to innumerable dinners, that he might make little speeches. The speeches were not important, but the dinners were good. He did not miss meals because of Cabinet meetings, and there was positively nothing for him to worry about. Any other human being would have laughed and grown fat. But Mr. Taft turns to and loses 80 pounds. That is a lot of weight to idly cast aside like a passe straw hat or an invitation to a department store opening. Few of us could do it.

We were wrong in not classing Mr. Taft as an extraordinary man.

California hopes that Col. Roosevelt, who "took" the Panama strip, may be sent as envoy to Europe to take Panama show exhibits.

FIVE-CENT JUDICIAL BEES.

A late charge against some St. Louis Justices' courts is that street car tickets in bunches containing $5 worth each are accustomed to be distributed among them by the United Railways for the use of the bench and court officers. A highly interesting statement is made by Justice Grassmuck of the Eighth District. He says that shortly after his last election a tender of a large sum of money was made to him by one of the loan agents who bring many suits in Justices' courts.

The public's desire for light on the peculiar judicial system under which some of these courts are operated is increased by these new charges. A bench that does not disdain 5-cent bribes in street car tickets represents about the last word in the perversion of courts from the purposes for which they were instituted.

Make the exposure merciless. Drive Justices of sinister practices from the offices they disgrace.

It is common sense to build railroads to bridges rather than build bridges to railroads.

FIFTY YEARS AFTER CHICKAMAUGA.

A great assembly, second in interest only to that at Gettysburg, is provided in this year of war semi-centennials by the meeting of the national G. A. R. encampment in the vicinity of Chickamauga.

The greatest chess game ever played on the continent ended at Chickamauga. In a series of masterly movements Gen. W. S. Rosecrans had maneuvered Gen. Braxton Bragg out of one strong position after another for five months. As a climax in effective outflanking he had forced him down to the very lower edge of Tennessee, almost without firing a shot. In executing feints designed to make Bragg believe he might be shut up in Chattanooga like Pemberton in Vicksburg, Rosecrans, fatuously overconfident, had scattered his army. Bragg again retreated, but in accord with a strategy even more brilliant than Rosecrans' own. Carefully instructed men were sent to the separated Federal camps as deserters to report the Confederates starving, demoralized, fleeing in a rout.

Rosecrans was completely deceived. Instead of concentrating, he ordered a hurried pursuit. Crittenden's corps was pushed through a road across the mountain ridge near Chattanooga. McCook's hastened through another pass 50 miles below and Thomas' corps through a pass midway between the two. In the woods behind a lower parallel ridge Bragg with reinforcements collected from the whole Confederacy, including even some from the hard pressed army in Virginia, lay in wait to gobble successively these isolated corps as each emerged in thin lines from the mountain gorges.

Bull Run was said to be the best planned and worst fought battle of the war on the Federal side. One of the very best planned of all battles on the Confederate side was the battle appointed by Bragg for Sept. 11 and again for Sept. 14, but never fought at all. Lack of co-operation on the part of superordinates prevented. It was Sept. 13 before Bragg began the deferred attack and then much of the early advantage had been lost. Crittenden and Thomas having joined forces.

Bragg's 70,000 men beat back two-thirds of the Federals' 57,000 in horrible confusion on Sept. 20, but this was due largely to a gap left by a blunder in the Federal ranks. Riding furiously for life, the beaten Rosecrans halted at a cross-road miles in the rear and sent a staff officer back to learn the meaning of heavy firing still heard from the field. This staff officer was James A. Garfield, afterward President. He found Thomas earning the title of "Rock of Chickamauga" in a desperate resistance that checked the enemy for six hours.

Only a little less famous than the Sun of Austerlitz is the full moon of Chickamauga. Gen. D. H. Hill has said that it was not until after Chickamauga, succeeding Gettysburg so closely, that the Confederate private soldier began to lose hope. Why did not Bragg continue the attack on Thomas' exhausted force by the bright moonlight that night? If he had there might be a different story to tell of the war in the West.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A Question of Dignity.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Mr. Bryan's dignity permits of no reply to the fulminations of the New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

No conservative thinker can believe that either the dignity of the American Government or the success of the present administration is imperiled by Mr. Bryan's occasional appearance upon the lecture platform.

The World's "modest" offer to conditionally reimburse Mr. Bryan in the sum of $3000 annually is an ill-advised impertinence. A casual knowledge of history would inform you that republics, governments and people are ungrateful and forgetful, and ours especially so. Robert Morris, signer of the Declaration of Independence, who financed the War of Independence, often advancing his own money, lay three years in a debtor's prison in old age and died in poverty, neglected and forgotten by the people and Government he served.

A census of opinion will show you how few responsible people agree with your view.

HORACE GHISELIN.

Beauty of the Ozarks.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
The esteemed Post-Dispatch has said many good things about the Ozark region, as a region of scenic beauty. The following from the pen of William Makepeace Thackeray, appearing in a guidebook of Ireland, will, if "Ozarks" is substituted for "Ireland" sound like a Post-Dispatch editorial.

"One of the most wild and beautiful districts that it is ever the fortune of a traveler to examine; and I could not help thinking as we passed through it, at how much pains and expense honest English cockneys are to see and look at the natural beauties far interior in countries which, though more distant, are not a whit more strange than this one. No doubt ere long, when people know how easy the task is, the rush of London tourism will come this way and I shall be very happy if these pages shall be able to awaken in one bottom beating in Tooley street or the Temple, the desire to travel towards Ireland next year. The best guidebook that ever was written cannot set the view before the mind's eye of the readers and I won't attempt to pile up big words in place of these wild mountains over which clouds are passed or the sunshine as it went and came, cast every variety of tint, light and shadow; nor can it be expected that long level sentences, however smooth and shining can be made to pass as representations of those calm lakes by which we took our way. All one can do is to lay down the pen and ruminate and cry 'beautiful!' once more; and to the reader say 'Come and see.'"
JOHN H. CURRAN.

Proposed Euclid Park.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
The Euclid Park Improvement Association some time ago circulated petitions in the district bounded by Taylor avenue, Union avenue, Easton avenue and Natural Bridge road. There was 3000 names secured in the petitions from taxpayers of that district. The object of the association is to have a bill introduced in the Municipal Assembly asking for money to purchase a vacant tract of land that is bounded by King's highway, Euclid, Terry and Spaulding avenues, for a public park. The Union Improvement and Civic Association has endorsed the movement. The Ashland School Improvement Association appointed a committee to co-operate with the Union Improvement Association in an effort to secure a public park in the vicinity named above. I would like to suggest to all of the civic improvement associations that they co-operate with the Euclid Park Improvement Association and increase the plan. There is no park near this beautiful spot. It is already graded and would cost little to put it in shape for a park.

There are about 300 green trees—priceless in themselves—only three old houses to be removed, if so desired. It is unimproved property. It comprises 21½ acres. I come into contact with a great many of the people living near the proposed park and district, and it seems like a waste to see the plot of ground made into a public park and playground.

Hopeful all associations will lend a helping hand to make the Euclid Park.

Uncle Sam Should Investigate "Come-Backs."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I was sorry to see you "let up" on the hotels in the matter of serving "come-backs"—knowing as I do your policy on the subject of "holdups" and abuses of the public.

It is quite natural for the stewards to want to cover up their tracks, which they seem to have successfully done through a line of newspaper articles on the subject. I believe that if an investigation could be made, a great many things would be discovered which would truly shock the public with regard to the class of foods bought in the market by the so-called first-class hotels and served up under fancy and alluring names. It is a peculiar case of where it is well-nigh impossible for the patrons of hotels—in many cases transients—to put up any sort of an effective defense. The question should be handled by the pure food branch of the Agricultural Department at Washington.

JOHN J. GUNNING.

Boosters Are No Joke.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I notice a certain gentleman is complaining of being disturbed by crowing roosters, and in your paper on the editorial page, Sept. 9, you seem to treat such as a joke. The man referred to has my sincere sympathies. I live in the West End near Union avenue; next door to me are a lot of chickens, with several roosters, one of which has a loud, deep baritone voice, and another, a large-sized bantam, has a loud high-pitched tenor voice. These roosters frequently begin crowing before 1 a. m. and always before 4 a. m. They certainly are a nuisance. During the hot weather it has been very difficult to sleep because of the noise of these several roosters. Similarly loud noises from other causes would be speedily stopped, but because the noises come from roosters such is considered a joke. I cannot understand why in crowded residence districts such things are tolerated.

Ought to bring in a lot of fun.

"We'd give them hay at that price, too,
Without this scandalous do-do.

But he don't adulterate his hay.

GLAD TO DO IT.

A new division superintendent upon one of the railroads in Arkansas failed to establish cordial relations with an Irish section boss. The Irishman disliked him at sight, and was never at pains to conceal it. The superintendent was not flattered, nor did he believe the feeling between himself and his subordinate increased the effectiveness of the service. He resolved to talk it over with the fellow, whom he called into his office.

"Pat," he said, "I can't understand why we don't get along better. I can't believe you have any reason to dislike me personally. I had a great many friends where I last worked. Do you see this desk?"

"Yes," answered Pat.

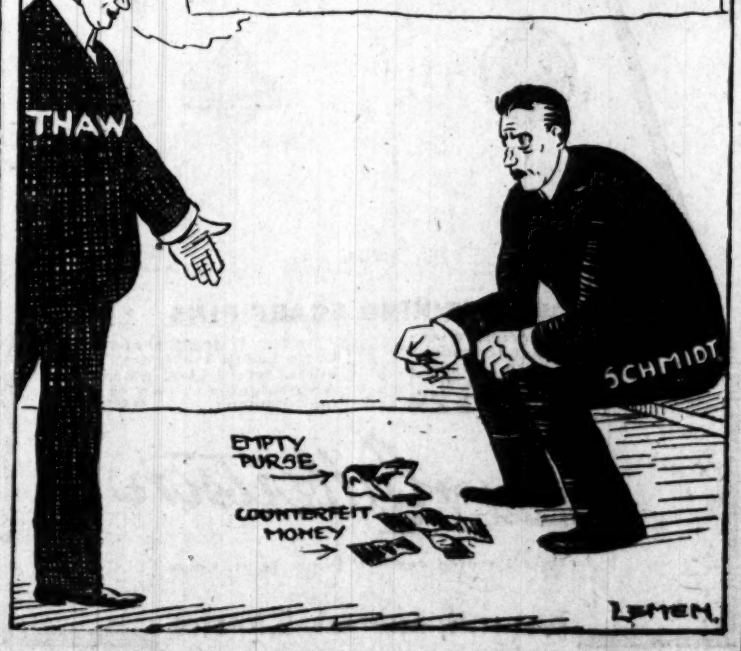

"They gave me that desk when I left my last job," the superintendent announced, with some show of pride.

Pat eyed his superior with dangerous narrowness.

"Begorra, if ye'll get out iv here I'll give ye wan iv thim things, too," he said.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.
KATIE.—Rich vanilla for cake. Make custard of quart milk, 1 egg and 4 cups granulated sugar. Boil from five and a half to six minutes. When cold beat into the custard a quart of rich cream and freeze. Vanilla ice cream. Cream of 1 quart milk, 6 beaten eggs and 4 cups granulated sugar. Boil from five to seven minutes. Beat until it coats the spoon, take from fire and add vanilla flavoring. Boil 10 minutes, and when cold add quart rich cream. Beat it in well and freeze.

Y.—Liver dumplings: One pound of calf liver, 1 large onion, 1 egg, 1 large cup bread crumbs, 1 heaping teaspoon flouing salt and pepper to taste. Mince the liver very fine, removing all strings; mince onion and add it to liver; stir in egg, pepper and salt; add the crumbs. Lastly the flour mix well with spoon. The mixture should be stiff enough to hold together when dropped into boiling water. Add more flour if it separates when boiling. The mixture should be dropped, a tablespoon at a time, into boiling water. Boil minutes. When done, lift out of water with skimmer and serve on platter with drawn butter poured over. Dumplings, if too, are good warmed over. Beef may be used instead of liver if preferred.

IONA.—Sunny window for rubber plant, no gashlight. Water abundantly, weekly, washing leaves; water ordinarily once in the same time; work tablespoon castor oil into earth monthly—not too near the plant. If winter keep in room in which temperature is not lower than 40, and put it out in summer where it does not strike it directly. Treat to an occasional watering with solution of tobacco dust, mixed with water, one pound dust with half-gallon water. "Country Life" says of all the remedies that are sometimes proposed for sick house plants, those which are recommended for rubber plants are the worst. They run all the way from applying beefsteak and castor oil to the roots to coating the leaves with milk. Give your plant a properly prepared soil and sufficient light, water over daily with soft cloth and remove any indication of dust, scale or insects.

LAW POINTS.
FUZZLED.—You may marry with your repudiated name or your own. G. U. N.—Don't shoot at target in yard. All shooting of firearms within the city is prohibited.

MRS. G. G.—Sale of wild bird plumage is prohibited in Missouri. The law does not say that wild duck feathers shall not be worn in hats.

S. M.—If your neighbor's roof spout is pouring water on your premises and doing damage, file a complaint in writing, with the Building Commissioner, city hall. He will send an inspector to examine and report.

DESERTED MARGARET.—See Prosecuting Attorney. Municipal Court Building in regard to husband who has deserted you. You would have to "get him back" at your own expense, the State not having provided funds for such cases.

REGULAR SUBSCRIBER.—When he is 18 or 19 and she is 16 or 17, and they live together two months, then wish the annulment of their marriage, they should see a lawyer or have a talk with the Circuit Court Clerk. The Court would be governed by the circumstances of the case.

S. & B.—If anything can be dug out of the wrecks of oil and mining speculation, some able lawyer must do it; he probably could not. Many were so deceived or so unfortunate in their investments that they now have nothing, or in something with a low interest rate, and which are hard to buy no more "on spec." In this the brokers are now getting something that is "coming to them" as reports of investors have preserved their "certificates" and framed them, so that their sons or grandsons may have a share in the future there is a wave of speculation. We give place to your question in the "little of the fish" at it is a share, going away with their certificates and thus cooling their anger.

MISCELLANEOUS.
MEGRAW.—We do not find lycium mages listed.

MRS. FREE.—We know nothing of the document stamps you mention.

NANT.—Some record may send it for you. A good recipe for "frying beads."

STEADY READER.—Consult Public Library or book store as to works on magnetism.

BEECHER.—If you cannot follow suit in eulogy, do not have to play your trump.

J. M. W.—See your Congressman about collecting a claim for a house worth $4000 or $5000.

CHINA PAINTING.—For china painting and firing see art department of Public Library.

SPEED.—For information as to Motor-grome riding, try writing or seeing Frank Schaefer, care of Friester's Park.

BELEVILLE.—One of the names of Hicks has ever been in the hands of the Weather Bureau here. The Rev. I. Hicks runs his own "bureau."

NEWSBOY.—(Supplement.) The McFarlan kindly sends you these facts in regard to putting a very small quantity of paraffin and pouring, while hot, on the remaining surface of gasoline. No danger, if gasoline is not near blaze. It can be applied with brush, or by dipping. It has found two tablespoons on one pint of a good proportion for this cost.

REIMBURSEMENT.—Immigrant who speak English may be naturalized. It is held that anyone who fails to learn our language after remaining here the necessary five years, remains a foreigner in law as well as in fact. A person who is deficient mentally or too careless of his opportunities to make a good citizen, is not required to do so.

A FIVE-SIXTHS JURY LAW.
From the Minneapolis Journal.
Five-sixths of a petit jury may now bring a verdict in Minnesota. This, of course, does not apply to criminal cases, but to the large mass of litigation between individuals, including corporate individuals. There are no reliable figures as to what proportion of cases have ended in mistrial because of the stubbornness of one or two men on the jury. It must have been represented to the Legislature as considerable. The five-sixths jury still has a safe margin of majority. The new law does not set up minority rule, but is a preventive of minority rule, and as such commends itself to the public.

CHIVALRY IN MISSIONARIES.
From the Manchester Guardian.
A Wesleyan Methodist missionary in India wrote home to the girl he was in love with, asking her to come out and marry him. The girl's aunt had the same name. She got the letter and went out. The missionary met her on the quay, and such was his delicacy of mind that he married her. When she died, years afterwards, he married the niece. This is the classic graceful act among the Wesleyan Methodists.

Indiana Humor.
From the Indianapolis Star.
"I see where society people of St. Louis held a lawn fete in a cemetery."

"Won't those Philadelphians be jealous!"

The Favorite "Toss."
From the Washington Post.
It would take more than a correspondence school of journalism to prevent rising young reporters from referring to a headless body as a "toss."

AMERICAN BANKERS HEAR BURTON RAP CURRENCY REFORM

Ohio Senator Declares Board of Control Might Be Used to Party Advantage.

FAIR WEATHER MEASURE

Law in Times of Stress Might Impair National Credit, Speaker Says.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 18.—Members of the American Institute of Bankers, in annual session here today, heard Senator Theodore E. Burton attack the Democratic currency bill pending in Congress. The Senator condemned the regional reserve bank plan proposed in the bill, but his criticism was aimed chiefly at the provision authorizing the Federal Reserve Board to control the issuance of currency.

"It is based on an erroneous idea," he said, "namely, that a Government or political organization may properly assume the providing of a supply of paper currency, directly or indirectly. It is proposed that the Government shall assume in the first instance the redemption of all circulating notes. This should be left to the banks exclusively. It might be necessary for the Treasury itself to maintain a gold reserve as is now held for the redemption of greenbacks."

Might Impair National Credit. "The proposed plan would cause no derangement in times of fair weather, but in times of panic or crises the obligation of the Government to redeem circulating notes would be most burdensome and might seriously impair its credit. The right to fix the amount and time of issue is equally objectionable. The transactions of borrower and lender, and the relations between banks and their customers will settle the question if left alone. This, however, does not mean the absence of a very essential field for Government supervision."

Discussing the plan to put the reserve bank system under the control of a Federal reserve board, composed of the Secretaries of the Treasury and Agriculture, the Comptroller of the Currency and four others named by the President, Senator Burton said:

"Such an organization might at first seem an ideal solution, securing a proper balance between the people and the banks in the all-important field of the management of our finances. But it is the base of our national life that politics enters all administrative duties."

Sees Political Danger. "The competition between opposing parties is so keen that those engaged in enterprises do not feel sure that the authority of a political board will not be used for partisan advantage."

Senator Burton said the idea of centralization had been adopted by foreign countries widely remote and different in politics, but added that there is no doubt a prevalent opinion which must be respected, which opposes a central bank, and our geographical area is so much greater than that of other countries, that a central bank is believed by many to be out of the question. "The Senator strongly commended the provisions granting authority to national banks to accept certain classes of paper, the proposed establishment of branches in foreign countries and the recently inserted clause to require reserve banks receiving the circulating notes of other banks to take immediate steps for their redemption."

FOES BURNED PRISONER IN JAIL, SAYS FATHER

Oklahoman Demands Issuance of Two Warrants; Refused by Prosecutor.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Sept. 18.—After the body of William Wortham, who perished in the fire which destroyed the jail at Fort Towson, Ok., a week ago, was exhumed today, Thomas Wortham, father of the young man, asked the prosecutor to issue warrants for two men there, who, he said, were responsible for young Wortham's death.

The young man was a prisoner in the jail and it had been charged that he burned the jail in an effort to escape. His relatives declared that the burning of the jail was part of a deliberate plot to kill him and that enemies on the outside of the prison started the fire.

The prosecutor refused to issue the warrants on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

When the body was exhumed it was found that one of the arms had been broken.

"DON'T WORRY," RAILROAD ADVISES ITS EMPLOYEES

"Be Contented With Your Lot and Learn to Master Your Needs," I. C. Statement Suggests.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—The worth of happiness is called to the attention of employees in a statement issued today by the Illinois Central Railroad. The company advises them to live pleasantly and avoid worry.

"Cultivate the art of living with yourself as you are and the world as it is," read the statement. "This nation once had a strenuous President who always explained his good health by saying 'I like my job.' Contentment with your daily lot, satisfaction with one regular employment is a great aid to dispelling worry."

"Of the mental causes, worry is the worst. Learn to be a master of your needs. Do not permit yourself to drift along like a helpless rudderless bark, tossed to and fro by every sensation of pain and every wind of mental distress."

GOLD STANDARD UPHELD IN HOUSE DESPITE REVOLT

Republicans Start Row Threatening to Split Democrats, but Leaders Stop It.

CALLED "POLITICAL TRAP"

Murdoch Warns Majority of G. O. P. Trick, but They Amend the Currency Bill.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—An eleven-hour revolt from the will of the caucus and the leadership of the Banking and Currency Committee spread among Democrats of the House last night, when the administration currency bill was within the shadow of the final vote upon its passage, but the party leaders finally got the situation in hand again.

Chairman Glass of the committee, and other leaders who sided with him, were plainly worried, and their predicament afforded unbecoming amusement to the Republicans and particularly to Progressive Leader Murdoch.

The revolt, lasted through many speeches on the Democratic side, several from across the aisle, and there was one vote on which more Democrats deserted the committee than had left its standard on any of the mooted questions brought up before.

"I'll Never Vote for It." An amendment by Representative Foss of Ohio, designed to maintain all legal money at a party and insure the retention of the gold standard, caused all the trouble, but it was adopted.

Some Democrats professed to see in it a revival of the old issue of bimetallism, and openly charged that the committee, in endorsing such an amendment, was offering a gratuitous insult to four-fifths of the Democratic party. That issue, they pointed out, was settled 16 years ago.

Representative Witherspoon of Mississippi was the first to announce that, with such an amendment tacked to the bill, he would bolt the caucus and vote against it. "I will never vote for it," he shouted, "for I am an honest man."

Attitude of Administration. "I challenge the right of the committee to bring in such an amendment as this," said Representative Wingo of Arkansas. "Somebody is playing politics and trying to humiliate four-fifths of the Democratic party. It is useless—it is childish."

Yet he stated: "President Wilson is for this amendment, I understand. I know that Mr. Bryan is for it. I am authorized to speak for Mr. Bryan. He told me that the question of whether or not this country should have the gold standard was settled years ago."

"He believes, therefore, that it is a good thing to put this amendment on this bill. I do not agree with him, or with the majority of the members of the Banking and Currency Committee, because I do not think this bill has anything to do with the standard of values."

"You Republicans have raised this old bugaboo. Now you ought to be satisfied, for Mr. Bryan has removed your fears. He has cut the ground from under you and you have nothing left to fight about. I, therefore, ask you to vote for this bill."

Oil on Troubled Waters. Representative Murray of Oklahoma declared that it was an insult to Democrats to indorse such an amendment. "I want to say now," he shouted, walking toward the Democratic committee table, "that the people of this country will not follow you to the polls next November on this issue."

Representative Shertey poured oil on the troubled waters, only to have them stirred again a moment later by Representative Murdoch. Shertey said that the amendment could do no harm and might do good, and that it was time for Democrats to forget what was behind and reckon with what was before.

"The Republicans are playing politics with you," was the taunt of Murdoch. "They propose to get a separate vote on the amendment and the bill in the House and put you Democrats on record. It's a trap that they are asking you to walk into—if you want to walk into it, so ahead."

At the conclusion of Murdoch's speech Representative Wingo announced that he would demand the separate vote on the amendment and the bill today. The Democrats paid little heed to the "warning" and the vote stood 104 to 88 for the amendment.

Republicans Start It. Excitement started when several Republicans charged that the bill had been changed at the eleventh hour at the suggestion of Secretary Bryan in order to strike a blow at the gold standard.

They called attention to the fact that in the bill as originally introduced by Representative Carter Glass, the Federal reserve treasury notes were made redeemable in gold by the Federal Government, but that at the last minute the words "gold or lawful money" were substituted. That amounted to an abandonment of the gold standard, they argued.

Representative Glass emphatically denied this, declaring that "lawful money" was itself redeemable in gold, since the enactment of the gold-standard law of 1900. The Republicans then charged that the present bill would imply repeal of the law of 1900. They declared the provision making the notes payable in "gold and lawful money" was a return to "greenbackism."

They declared that Secretary Bryan had written into the bill the monetary theories "for which he has contended since 1896."

F. E. Marshall of St. Louis told the committee that he believed the bill made no provision for replacing the present national bank notes with the proposed new Treasury notes.

He believed it would be almost impossible to keep Government 3 per cent bonds at par, if $700,000,000 were issued to replace 3 per cent bonds now used as security for national bank notes.

EAST ST. LOUIS POLICE
ASK TO BE REINSTATED

Five Patrolmen, Dismissed for Failure to File Proper Bonds, Reopen Cases.

The applications for reinstatement on the Police Department of Bert Farrell, Charles Watson, John McMilligan and James Schnell, who were dismissed several weeks ago for failing to file proper bonds, were received and filed by the East St. Louis Board of Fire and Police Commissioners Wednesday night.

The men insist that the board has no jurisdiction to dismiss them, as a law passed by the Legislature last July provides that a board composed of the Circuit, County and Probate Judges alone has power to dismiss men from the force.

The board also authorized the installation of a matron's room, for women and juvenile prisoners in quarters now occupied by the Detective Bureau on the second floor at police headquarters.

The room formerly used as a press room will be occupied by the Detective Bureau.

THIEVES CLIP TAILS OF 6 HORSES AT JERSEYVILLE

Dow (Ill.) Farmers Armed With Shotguns, Guard Stables All Night to Prevent Depredation.

Farmers of Madison, Jersey and Macoupin counties, Ill., are keeping armed guard against vandals who have been clipping the tails of their horses in the past few days.

Wednesday night, William Fowler of Jerseyville led eight of his horses into pasture. Thursday morning he found four of them bereft of their tails.

The thieves also clipped the tails from two horses owned by William Hopper.

The first depredation was committed at East Alton six weeks ago. The thieves extended their operations to Piasa, Shipman, Brighton, Dow and to Jerseyville. At Dow farmers who were clipping the tails all night with shotguns and saw they will shoot down the first person who looks suspicious.

A horse fair has a commercial value and the thieves, it is supposed, got it to sell.

GRAND JURY SITS FINK'S MORTGAGE DEALINGS

Witness Alleges Private Banker Canceled $1500 Security Without Payment to Him.

The St. Clair County grand jurors began an investigation of mortgage transactions by Henry J. Fink, the private banker, Thursday, by examining Homer Greer and Joseph Bler.

Fink was arrested Sept. 5 and held to the grand jury under $1000 bond. A warrant issued by the grand jury on Sept. 11, charged Fink with the cancellation of a $1500 mortgage without payment to the lender, leaving the lender without notice or payment to him.

Bler says the Greer mortgage was canceled and the new mortgage on the same property made, under which small notes were issued and sold to numerous purchasers, leaving his loan unsecured.

NEW LAW CLOSES HOTEL

Belleville Proprietor to Keep Only Ten Rooms.

Belleville will lose at least one hotel as a result of the new law which requires all hotels to have a certain number of rooms in each room, bed sheets in every room every day.

Arthur Lehner, proprietor of the National Hotel, on the public square, announced he would close all but 10 rooms in his hotel rather than comply with the law, which became effective July 1, but which Lehner learned was in effect only after he had talked with his attorney.

GRADE CROSSING SOCIETY

Will Be Formed at St. Louis County Fair Saturday.

A meeting to form a county grade crossing association has been called by Sam D. Hodgson, an attorney of Webster Groves, to be held Saturday at 11 a. m. at the St. Louis County Fair. Some of those Hodgson expects to attend the meeting are a representative and engineer from the Public Works Commission, Mayor James E. McElroy, and a representative of the Automobile Club and Circuit Judge Wurdemann.

The association will seek the abolition of the more dangerous grade crossings and to see that water gates and alarm bells are maintained at the others.

ELEVATOR FOR EAST SIDE

Freight House to Cost $20,000 Also Is Planned.

Leon Priwer, former Alderman in East St. Louis, has announced that he will build a 60,000-bushel grain elevator in the city within the next few months. He is seeking a favorable location.

A permit was issued by Building Commissioner John to the Big Four Railroad, for the construction of an additional freight house, 145,000 feet, cost not less than $20,000.

STORM PUTS OUT LIGHTS

New Haven Stock Sells at New Low Record.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—A break of 2 1/2 points in the stock of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co. today carried the price down to $35 1/2, a new low record at 85 1/2. The stock showed a loss of 6 points since the close of last week. The decline was due to the high price of the stock, reached on Jan. 17, 1913, when it stood at $41 1/2. The depreciation in the stock was due to the fact that the stock was sold at a high price, and the price was not supported by the market.

By Leased Wire From the New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"There were numerous important developments today, bearing upon stock market conditions. The most important of these were the announcement of the New Haven stock sale, the announcement of the New York stock sale, and the announcement of the New York stock sale."

"Some of these concerned the money market and the efforts of banks and trust companies to build up reserves in anticipation of the considerable financing which will have to be attended to in connection with the October settlement."

"There was a good deal of shifting of loans, and while money rates ruled firm, there was no special change in quotations."

"Foreign exchange was a trifle higher, and it was perfectly apparent that London bankers would oppose any effort to bring the dollar down to the level of the pound."

"No progress was made by the Treasury towards increasing public debt, and the fact that little more than one-fifth of the $40,000,000 of new bonds originally allotted for distribution had been released, suggested that some of the major banks were disinclined to purchase the new bonds to put up as collateral covering one-tenth of the deposits."

"Abroad the markets reflected similar operations in connection with the new bonds, and the fact that many signs that money market conditions were becoming more influential in the investment markets."

"So far as the stock market was concerned, there was little of interest in the dealings until the last hour of trading. Prices up to that time had moved irregularly with unimportant fluctuations and periods of dullness."

"Then there was a sharp advance, and under the influence of large buying orders in Union Pacific, Reading and United States Steel, speculation broadened and the market became more active."

"Speculation quickly made the market interesting, and the extent of the inquiry showed that the upward movement had created a good deal of support which had been withheld during the early hours."

"There was no news development whatever on which to base the advance, but the fairly firm undertone displayed by the market as a whole appeared to excite more genuine support."

"The markets abroad were more or less unimportant, and on balance, London sold more and New York bought more of our stocks. Investment buying had good deal to do with the improvement, where higher-grade investments were in good demand."

"Passage of the currency bill by the House had a good effect on the market, advancing sharply on the news."

"The late trading in Pacific assumed leadership of the market, with sharp advances in both the common and the preferred shares. Trading in the last few minutes was active and there appeared to be good buying on the advance."

"The tone in the final trading was decidedly cheerful and the whole market touched the highest level of the day just before the close."

"Both wheat and corn were lower and there was heavy selling of both staples."

"The Bank of England made a strong weekly return, the institution's reserve percentage being the highest reported so far this year, and much above the figure for this week in any recent years."

"The Bank of France showed a moderate gain in gold for the week."

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S WALL STREET TRANSACTIONS

Intermittent pressure was applied today to the stock market, which felt the absence of the general advance of yesterday. Professional investors continued to buy, and prices and distributed short lines on the expectation that the short interest would be utilized to market stocks and that the heavy buying of the short interest would be an effective bulwark.

"The heavy buying of the short interest was a heavy blow to the bear market, and the market was a heavy seller of both staples."

"The Bank of England made a strong weekly return, the institution's reserve percentage being the highest reported so far this year, and much above the figure for this week in any recent years."

"The Bank of France showed a moderate gain in gold for the week."

SMATTER POP?

The Jarr Family

By ROY L. MCARDLELL

Mr. Jarr Gets Invited to Join the Order of Snakes.

"W HAT I like about New York," said Mr. Blodger of Philadelphia, "is that so long as they get your money in this town they'll stand for murder. Now, over in Philadelphia if you open a bottle of beer on Sunday you'll get raided. That's why we have clubs—beneficial orders like the Secret Societies of Snakes and Splendid Snakes. But here in this town nobody seems to care what's going on in the paragon. After we sell our property we'll blow Philly—there's too much neighborly interest—but in New York nobody cares whether the Kellys are at it again. Why, look, you live here in this air-tight flat right up against 10 other air-tight flats, and maybe every other flat in the house ought to be raided. Why?"

"Willie," cried Mrs. Jarr, "leave the table! Didn't I tell you if you ever ate with your knife again you should leave the table?"

"But I wasn't, maw; that man is eating with his knife, but I ain't!" replied the little Jarr boy in hurt tones.

"Excuse me, Mr. Blodger," said Mrs. Jarr. "And now, Willie, you can leave the table for contradicting mamma, and you can go with him, Emma. Gertrude will give you your ice cream in your room!"

The children took their banishment in good part, seeing that it was ameliorated with ice cream, and Mrs. Jarr afterward confessed that it hurt her to have to be unjust to the children, but whenever out-of-town people got to discussing the wickedness of New York it was time to send the children from the room.

"As I was saying," Blodger resumed when the children had been guided out, with Gertrude, the light running domestic, luring them on with two heaping plates of ice cream, "this is the town for my money!"

"Oh, it's a dreadful town!" chimed in Mrs. Blodger. "We went right from the train to see a theater where the most shocking things made me blush."

"Are the girls still interested in their French lessons?" asked Mrs. Jarr, addressing Mrs. Blodger in hopes of changing the conversation.

"Don't mention it," said Mr. Blodger, speaking with a mouthful; "their mother takes books from them printed in French that even the pictures would make your eyes pop out. I wonder if Paris is as wicked as they say? When we sell our property I'm going over there and see."

"The French are shocking, wicked people," said Mrs. Blodger. "and I wouldn't let you go abroad unless I went alone."

"Nix!" said Mr. Blodger curtly. "You trail with me to this town and make people sit up and wonder what I'm doing out late with my mother, but if I go to Paris on our honeymoon I'll go alone. No wif for Paris for me!"

"I suppose you've seen all those wicked plays the police are closing up?" asked Mrs. Blodger, turning to Mr. Jarr. "Oh, you New Yorkers are wicked—dreadfully wicked! I wanted to see them before the police closed them, just to see how wicked they were, because the girls wanted to know, but all I say is that it is a wonder New York isn't destroyed with fire and brimstone."

"Zow, it's all a big swindle!" said Mr. Blodger, disgustedly. "I came over from Philadelphia once to see 'Sapho,' and there was nothing to it but a fat actor carrying a fatter old actress up a flight of stairs. And I paid six dollars for my seat to a spectator. You New Yorkers are a lot of bores, anyway."

"Well, I believe it is out-of-town visitors that patronize such things," said Mr. Jarr mildly.

"Well, it's the out-of-town people who give moral tone to the nation," said Mrs. Blodger, with an old flash of the spirit she had when Mrs. Cackberry, a widow of means. "New Yorkers ain't shocked at those things."

"They don't see them," said Mr. Jarr.

"Well," interposed Mr. Blodger, "all I can say is that I think it's an outrage for people to come a distance to see if they are really hot stuff!"

"Shocking and degrading, you mean," Bernard, interrupted Mrs. Blodger.

"—and find them closed by the police when we get to town. We saw one this afternoon, but it was a swindle," continued Mr. Blodger. "With music it could have been a cantata."

"If people want to see those things they are the best judges as to whether they are shocked and disgusted their money's worth," volunteered Mr. Jarr.

"Does the squaw hawl you out when you come home with the milk?" asked Mr. Blodger, giving Mr. Jarr a keen look for he evidently thought Mr. Jarr was speaking for effect. "If not, suppose we let the wif stay home and slander the neighbors while you

Stories St. Louisans Tell

THE WRONG ADDRESS.

"T HE story of the visiting New Yorker who asked William Marlon Reedy to show him Joe Folk's grave," said Claude H. Wetmore, "reminds me of a friend of mine, now living in St. Louis, who a number of years ago was on a committee to invite a group of celebrities to a certain celebration in New Jersey. Invitations were sent, by mail, to the men selected by the committee. The list included Rutherford B. Hayes."

"To which place did you address your letter to Mr. Hayes?" inquired a citizen who read the list of invitations in the newspaper.

"Why, to his home in Ohio," replied my friend.

"You had the wrong address, then," said the citizen. "Mr. Hayes has been dead three years."

and I go out and see if there are any good sports out scouting in this town—a bunch of snakes I know are over from our Philly."

"Now," said the teacher, "who followed Edward VI?"

"Mary," replied one child correctly.

"Right," commented the teacher.

"Next boy: Who followed Mary?"

"The little lamb," replied the next boy without an instant's hesitation.

Contrib: Oh, mostly from associations. Why, don't you like them?
Editor: Well, it wouldn't be a bad idea to get some new friends.

Johnson Bros. Drug Co.'s
NEW ENLARGED DEPARTMENT FOR TRUSSES

AND ABDOMINAL SUPPORTERS
AT OUR BIG
7th and St. Charles St. Drug Store

Is second to none in the United States in its completeness, facilities and expert services offered its patrons.

THIS department, located on our large Balcony Salesroom—with private rooms adjoining—with every modern equipment—expert men and women to properly and correctly fit Trusses, Abdominal Supporters, Elastic Stockings, etc.—is in position to offer the best possible service to every man and woman in St. Louis and vicinity who is in need of such appliances. Our great $10,000 stock of Trusses, in charge of two experienced men who have made almost a life study of the subject, is the only completely equipped department of this kind in the entire West. And, best of all, our prices are so reasonable—only about half what you would pay elsewhere.
